The Nature of the Law and Related Legal Writings 1991 during the course of his lifelong wide ranging reflections on history and philosophy eric voegelin naturally was drawn to speculate on the nature of law this volume consists of many of voegelin s significant writings in this area most notably the previously unpublished The Nature of the Law voegelin completed The Nature of the Law in 1957 while he was a member of the political science faculty of louisiana state university and teaching a course in jurisprudence at the university s law school in it he undertakes a philosophical analysis of the law to determine its nature or essence and comes to the conclusion that the law does not exist as a discrete entity but instead constitutes the structure of a society the law as voegelin s analysis reveals is not simply the command of a leviathan handed down to others nor is it simply the result of a social compact among autonomous individuals or the expressed will of a majority securing its own self defined immediate worldly interest it is rather a part of the order that a society discovers and specifies for itself in the effort to secure the common good thus laws and legal order have an integral relation with the society that declares them for in declaring laws the society in some sense structures itself also included in this volume is voegelin s detailed outline for the jurisprudence course he taught at lsu from 1954 to 1957 the outline was distributed to voegelin s students but otherwise has not been published in this outline voegelin is concerned more with the criteria for legal order than he is with the nature of law voegelin also prepared for his jurisprudence course supplementary notes that are essentially a compact statement of his views on the law and the editors have included those notes here finally the book contains reviews written by voegelin in 1941 and 1942 of four books on legal science and legal philosophy

Promoting Efficiency in Jurisprudence and Constitutional Development in Africa 2022-11-14 in this book one of our country s most distinguished scholar judges shares with us his vision of the law for the past two thousand years the philosophy of law has been dominated by two rival doctrines one contends that law is more than politics and yields in the hands of skillful judges correct answers to even the most difficult legal questions the other contends that law is politics through and through and that judges wield essentially arbitrary powers rejecting these doctrines as too metaphysical in the first instance and too nihilistic in the second richard posner argues for a pragmatic jurisprudence one that eschews formalism in favor of the factual and the empirical laws he argues are not abstract sacred entities but socially determined goals for shaping behavior to conform with society s values examining how judges go about making difficult decisions posner argues that they cannot rely on either logic or science but must fall back on a grab bag of informal methods of reasoning that owe less than one might think to legal training and experience indeed he reminds us the greatest figures in american law have transcended the traditional conceptions of the lawyer s craft robert jackson did not attend law school and benjamin cardozo left before getting a degree holmes was neither the most successful of lawyers nor the most lawyerly of judges citing these examples posner makes a plea for a law that frees itself from excessive insularity and takes all knowledge practical and theoretical as grist for its mill the pragmatism that posner espouses implies looking at problems concretely experimentally without illusions with an emphasis on keeping diverse paths of inquiry open and above all with the insistence that social thought and action be evaluated as instruments to desired human goals rather than as ends in themselves in making his arguments he discusses notable figures in jurisprudence from antigone to ronald dworkin as well as recent movements ranging from law and economics to civic republicanism and feminism to libertarianism all are subjected to posner s stringent analysis in a fresh and candid examination of some of the deepest problems presented by the enterprise of law

Jurisprudence 2013-07-04 this book brings together the study of two great disciplines of the islamic world law and philosophy in both sunni and shiite islam it became the norm for scholars to acquire a high level of expertise in the legal tradition thus some of the greatest names in the history of aristotelianism were trained jurists like averroes or commented on the status and nature of law like al farabi while such authors sought to put law in its place relative to the philosophical disciplines others criticized philosophy from a legal viewpoint like al ghazali and ibn taymiyya but this collection of papers does not only explore the relative standing of law and philosophy it also looks at how philosophers theologians and jurists answered philosophical questions that arise from jurisprudence itself what is the logical structure of a well formed legal argument what standard of certainty needs to be attained in passing down judgments and how is that standard reached what are the sources of valid legal judgment and what makes these sources authoritative may a believer be excused on grounds of ignorance together the contributions provide an unprecedented demonstration of the close connections between philosophy and law in islamic society while also highlighting the philosophical interest of texts normally studied only by legal historians according to many islamic jurists the world is divided between dar al islam the abode of islam and dar al harb the abode of war this dual division of the world has led to a great amount of juridical discussion concerning what makes a territory part of dar al islam what the status of muslims living outside of this is and whether they are obliged to obey islamic jurisprudence susanne olsson examines the differing understandings of dar al islam and dar al harb as well as related concepts such as jihad and takfir she thereby is able to explore how these concepts have been utilised transformed and negotiated throughout history as the subject of muslims living in europe is such a topical and sometimes controversial one this book will appeal to researchers of modern islam as integral to the western experience

Islamic Jurisprudence, Islamic Law, and Modernity 2023-08-01 this book provides a rare view of a creative scholar at work during a highly productive phase of his career it shows him as an innovator theorist methodologist missionary critic and scientist but he remains withal in his fashion a humanist he believes that institutions and processes particularly law politics and scholarship are best understood in human terms with holmes he believes that law is a prediction of what courts will do hence to understand law it is necessary to understand judicial behavior a full explanation of a judge s behavior would take into account his health both physical and mental his personality his culture and society and his ideology glendon schubert concedes this but focuses primarily on ideology because he believes the other variables are sublimated in it therefore to him ideology attitudes toward human values is the basic explanation of judicial behavior and jurisprudence is necessarily human the studies in this volume are important in the study of judicial behavior for they broke new ground and some were forerunners of major books such as the judicial mind which was published in 1965 each shows professor schubert s concern at the time they were written and taken together they show the movement and growth of his ideas and interests specifically the global community yearbook appears annually in two volume editions of carefully chosen primary source material and corresponding expert commentary the general editor professor giuliana ziccardi capaldo employs her vast expertise in international law to select excerpts from important court opinions and also to choose experts from around the world who contribute essay guides to illuminate those cases although the main focus is recent case law from the major international tribunals and regional courts the first volume of each year s edition always features expert articles by renowned scholars who address broader themes in international law themes that appear throughout the case law of the many courts covered by the series as a whole b this particular edition 2009 this year s edition of the global community yearbook is restructured to update its format and to better respond to its objective the change affects the section entitled decisions of international courts and tribunals all other sections will remain the same this section divided into twelve sub sections presents annually the more significant international case law in the form of legal maxims systematically collected the elaboration of legal maxims extracted from the courts decisions and their systematic classification makes this year s edition of the yearbook unique international courts and tribunals have developed remarkably in recent years and it is becoming increasingly difficult to follow the case law emanating from those jurisdictions without the help of an intermediary the yearbook and its unique changes fill this gap by serving as an intermediary between the case law and international scholars practitioners and students in previous issues of the yearbook these legal maxims were prepared by referring both to the law and often extensively to the specific facts of the case in the new format the legal maxims will now distil the most important elements of judicial decisions and rely less heavily on the facts the text of the legal maxims has been reduced to the minimum necessary for systematic classification printing the website links for the case law an introductory note on each international tribunal or court continues to be provided as a synopsis of their activity over the year this reduction of the text of legal maxims better responds to the goals of the yearbook to serve as a mediator and to provide complete coverage of case law from international courts and tribunals c individual volumes the first volume of the 2009 edition of global community yearbook presents three categories of material wholly beneficial to any international law researcher international tribunals court opinions excerpted with scholarly skill by general editor giuliana ziccardi capaldo expert guidance on those cases in the form of commentary by globally recognized luminaries whom ziccardi has chosen personally and more broadly focused introductory essays by similarly prominent scholars whom ziccardi has also selected for that purpose in the introductory essays those scholars take on the current controversial topics of the case against criminalizing hate speech the global importance of human rights for environmental protection the evolution of international environmental law and the politics of global powers those incisive and knowledgeable introductory articles help frame the debates currently raging in international law before this volume leads the reader on to expert commentary on the noteworthy cases from this past year s dockets of the following tribunals the international court of justice the wto dispute resolution system the international criminal court international criminal tribunal for the former yugoslavia international criminal tribunal for rwanda ziccardi has arranged the sections of this volume according to that list of tribunals and she has included a short targeted index for each of those sections making any research in this volume efficient and fruitful volume 2 this second volume of the 2009 edition of global community yearbook gives researchers an illuminating tour through the varied and dynamic law of regional and organizational courts in the court opinion excerpts and expert commentary that fill this volume researchers will find detailed guidance on a rich diversity of legal topics from whether the european court of human rights is effective as the centerpiece of the european human rights protection system to the jurisdictional challenges by respondent states under applicable investment agreements on these questions and a host of others this volume provides to students scholars and practitioners alike a valuable combination of expert discussion and direct quotes from the court opinions to which that discussion relates the courts covered by this particular volume are the court of first instance of the european communities the court of justice of the european communities the european court of human rights inter american court of human rights international centre for the settlement of investment disputes
