Black and Indigenous Resistance in the Americas 2020-03-04 in this highly controversial and original work damien short systematically rethinks how genocide is and should be defined rather than focusing solely on a narrow conception of genocide as direct mass killing through close empirical analysis of a number of under discussed case studies including palestine sri lanka australia and alberta canada the book reveals the key role played by settler colonialism capitalism finite resources and the ecological crisis in driving genocidal social death on a global scale

The Art of Resistance 2020-02-04 offering a diagnostic global perspective on police brutality towards anti policing prefiguring possibilities beyond the thin blue line raises critical questions about whether policing is needed at all and what underlying purpose it actually serves in this post pandemic era where the grip of authoritarianism has only tightened towards anti policing positions radical grassroots activism as a first line of critical defiance against the fear terror paradigm of policing logics and the pervasive brutality that this form of community control represents

Redefining Genocide 2016-06-15 contesting extinctions decolonial and regenerative futures critically interrogates the discursive framing of extinctions and how they relate to the systems that bring about biocultural loss the chapters in this multidisciplinary volume examine approaches to ecological and social extinction and resurgence from a variety of fields including environmental studies literary studies political science and philosophy grounding their scholarship in decolonial indigenous and counter hegemonic frameworks the contributors advocate for shifting the discursive focus from ruin to regeneration

Towards Anti-policing 2024-02-14 in eradicating ecocide international environment lawyer and ecocide law expert polly higgins sets out to demonstrate how our planet is fast being destroyed by the activities of corporations and governments facilitated by compromise laws that offer insufficient deterrence she offers a solution that is radical yet pragmatic and as she explains necessary starting with the mexican gulf oil spill a compelling reminder of the consequences of un checked ecocide higgins advocates the introduction of an international ecocide law as the missing 5th crime against peace it would hold to account heads of corporate bodies who are found guilty of perpetrating ecocide the opportunity to implement this law represents a crossroads in the fate of humanity we can accept this one change and in doing so save our ecosystem for future generations or we can continue to destroy it risking future brutal war over disappearing natural resources this is the first book to examine the power of law to change everything higgins provides context by presenting examples of laws in other countries and in earlier times in history which have succeeded in curtailing the power of governments corporations and banks and have triggered change eradicating ecocide is a crash course on what laws work what doesn t and what else is required to prevent the ever escalating destruction eradicating ecocide provides a comprehensive overview of what is required in law in order to prevent ecocide it is a book unlike any other based on the principle of first do no harm it applies equally to global as well as smaller communities and anyone who is involved in decision making

Contesting Extinctions 2021-11-08 landmark work illustrates the history of north american indigenous resistance and the struggle for land rights

Ecocide in Indochina 1970 this book explores distinct forms of civil resistance in situations of violent conflict in cases across latin america drawing important lessons learned for nonviolent struggles in the region and beyond the authors analyse campaigns against armed actors in situations of internal armed conflict against private sector companies that seek to exploit natural resources and against the state in defence of housing rights to cite only some scenarios of violent conflict in which people in latin america have organized to resist imposition by powerful actors and or confront violence and oppression each of the nine cases studied looks at the violent context in which civil resistance took place its modality its results and the factors that influenced these as well as the challenges faced offering useful insights for scholars and practitioners alike

Tribal Peoples and Development Issues 1988 a guide to direct action for those disillusioned with the posturing of liberal activism the radical left is losing but it doesn t have to be that way here is the radical s guide to activist work the manual we need at this crucial moment to organize for universal human rights a habitable earth and a more egalitarian society thoroughly exploring the achievements and failures of radical movements throughout history from 19th century anti colonial rebellions in china and the environmental actions of first nations and native american tribes throughout the 20th century to black lives matter and the fight for gay liberation the two volumes of full spectrum resistance candidly advocate for direct action not just risk averse models of protest marches and call ins with in depth histories and case studies of social justice and environmental movements noted writer activist and farmer aric mcbay explains why passive resistance alone cannot work and how we must be prepared to do whatever it takes to create substantial social change in volume 1 building movements and fighting to win mcbay describes the need for resistance movements and paints a portrait of what a thriving resistance movement might look like today citing successful movements such as the deacons of defense of the american civil rights movement the anti colonial revolutions in guinea and cape verde and activist groups like act up mcbay deftly illustrates how to organize activist groups and encourage enlistment while also noting the necessary precautions one must take to secure these radical circles from infiltration and collapse

Social Movements and Everyday Acts of Resistance 2023-08-01 the authors in lost kingdom grapple with both the catastrophe of mass animal extinction in which the panoply of earthly life is in the accelerating process of disappearing and with the mass death of industrial animal agriculture both forms of anthropogenic violence against animals cast the anthropocene as an era of criminality and loss driven by boundless human exceptionalism forcing a reckoning with and an urgent reimagining of human animal relations without the sleights of hand that would lump humanity into a singular anthropos of the anthropocene the authors recognize the differential nature of human impacts on animal life and the biosphere as a whole while affirming the complexity of animal worlds and their profound imbrications in human cultures societies and industries confronting the reality of the sixth mass extinction and mass animal death requires forms of narrativity that draw on traditional genres and disciplines while signaling a radical break with modern temporalities and norms chapters in this volume reflect this challenge while embodying the interdisciplinary nature of inquiry into non human animality at the edge of the abyss historiography cultural anthropology post colonial studies literary criticism critical animal studies ethics religious studies anthropocene studies and extinction studies entwine to illuminate what is arguably the greatest crisis for all creatures in the past 65 million years

Civil Resistance and Violent Conflict in Latin America 2019-01-21 climate change rapid urbanisation pandemics as well as innovations in technologies such as blockchain ai and iot are all impacting urban space one response to such changes has been to make cities ecologically sustainable and smart the eco smart city for instance uses networked sensing cloud and mobile computing to optimise control and regulate urban processes and resources from real time bus information to autonomous electric vehicles smart parking and smart street lighting such initiatives are often presented as a social and environmental good critics however increasingly argue that technologically driven and efficiency led approaches are too simplistic to deal with the complexities of urban life sustainability in the smart city is predominantly performed in limited ways that leave little room for participation and citizen agency despite government efforts to integrate innovative technologies in more equitable ways more importantly there is a growing awareness that a human centred notion of cities in which urban space is designed for and inhabited by humans only is no longer tenable within the age of the anthropocene a term used to refer to a new geological era in which human activity is transforming earth systems accelerating climate change and causing mass extinctions scholars and practitioners are working generatively by acknowledging the entanglements between human and non human others including plants animals insects as well as soil water and sensors and their data in urban life in designing more than human smart cities renowned researchers and practitioners from urban planning architecture environmental humanities geography design arts and computing critically explore smart cities beyond a human centred approach they respond to the complex interrelations between human and non human others in urban space through theory policy and practice past and present and thinking speculatively about how smart cities may evolve in the future the book makes a timely contribution to lively contemporary scientific and political debates on genuinely sustainable smart cities

Full Spectrum Resistance, Volume One 2019-05-28 after five hundred years of conquest and social destruction he says any useful reflection must come to terms with the political state of indian affairs and the political hopes and visions for recovering the health and well being of indian communities does christian theology have a positive role to play

Lost Kingdom: Animal Death in the Anthropocene 2024-03-12 edmund husserl s ideas informed by kant s critiques constituted a point of departure when rereading philosophical problems of subject and subjectivity in his phänomenologie und egologie 1961 63 jan broekman revealed how husserl analysed the split ego notion in kant s vision which became fundamental for his phenomenology the form and function of subjectivity were likewise positioned in psychiatry and literature as well as in aesthetics as jan broekman s texts on cubism demonstrated problems of language unfolded in studies on topics ranging from the texts of ezra pound to the dialogic insights of martin buber all of which were involved in the development of semiotics two themes accompanied these insights the notion and later parisian mainstream called structuralism and the urgent need to arrive at deeper insights into the links between marxism and phenomenology central language concepts also played a part as early as 1986 jan broekman published on semiology and medical discourse and in 1992 on neurosemiotics before addressing the link between speech act and legal as well as social freedom in 1993 in all these works the subject and the atmosphere of subjectivity were essential aspects in addition to his writing jan broekman gave courses on current philosophical issues law and medicine until retiring in 1996 and in his intertwinements of law and medicine revisited subjectivity aspects while also offering a synthetic view in this festschrift in honour of jan broekman the contributions address the analogue digital dichotomy in semiotics the multicultural self in language and semiotics semiology and legal discourse the legal subject and the atmosphere of subjectivity intertwinements of law and medicine the semiotics of law in legal education signs in law and legal discourse making meaning in law and legal speech acts

Designing More-than-Human Smart Cities 2024-06-04 this anthology is a philosophical reader on racism sexism heterosexism and classism with a distinct theoretical framework that provides coherence and cohesion to the readings the book is framed by a model of racism sexism heterosexism and classism that understands these phenomena as interlocking systems of oppression resting upon this oppression model are two sets of theories one concerned with the phenomenon of privilege the companion of oppression and the other with resistance the response to oppression

Spirit and Resistance 2004 in biopolitics of the more than human joseph pugliese examines the concept of the biopolitical

through a nonanthropocentric lens arguing that more than human entities from soil and orchards to animals and water are actors and agents in their own right with legitimate claims to justice examining occupied palestine guantánamo and sites of us drone strikes in afghanistan pakistan somalia and yemen pugliese challenges notions of human exceptionalism by arguing that more than human victims of war and colonialism are entangled with and subject to the same violent biopolitical regimes as humans he also draws on indigenous epistemologies that invest more than human entities with judicial standing to argue for an ethico legal framework that will enable the realization of ecological justice bringing the more than human world into the purview of justice pugliese makes visible the ecological effects of human war that would otherwise remain outside the domains of biopolitics and law

The Rearguard of Subjectivity 2023-09-02 native americans and the environment brings together an interdisciplinary group of prominent scholars whose works continue and complicate the conversations that shepard krech started in the ecological indian hailed as a masterful synthesis and yet assailed as a problematic political tract shepard krech s work prompted significant discussions in scholarly communities and among native americans rather than provide an explicit assessment of krech s thesis the contributors to this volume explore related historical and contemporary themes and subjects involving native americans and the environment reflecting their own research and experience at the same time they also assess the larger issue of representation the essays examine topics as divergent as pleistocene extinctions and the problem of storing nuclear waste on modern reservations they also address the image of the ecological indian and its use in natural history displays alongside a consideration of the utility and consequences of employing such a powerful stereotype for political purposes the nature and evolution of traditional ecological knowledge is examined as is the divergence between belief and practice in native resource management geographically the focus extends from the eastern subarctic to the northwest coast from the great lakes to the great plains to the great basin
