in 1770 h m bark endeavour arrived in new holland australia the continent of smoke on board were lieutenant james cook gentleman naturalist joseph banks natural history artist sydney parkinson and midshipman james magra for the first time this book combines the journals of these men to present a single cohesive narrative that brings the story to life as never before the journals are complimented by over 300 images including charts costal profiles plans of harbors and many original drawings executed during the voyage of the animals people and landscape unique to the region of the many titles that are available concerning cook and his voyaging few focus on cook s new holland experience most commonly these titles are interpretative accounts and heavily weighted with the author's opinion however here the story of new holland is told in the words of the explorers themselves containing first hand accounts of all the elements of drama risk and first discovery focusing particularly on the contact with the indigenous people and how they were first described by europeans this is an adaption of the discovery story made accessible to the general reader as well as the historian without compromising the integrity of the original document these adventurers were men of their own time constrained by the common beliefs that fashioned the lives of people two hundred and fifty years ago if some of their words sit uncomfortably with current thinking we should remind ourselves that some of our own beliefs and actions might similarly be thought beyond the pale by future generations and that we too may find ourselves the target of criticism from those who come after us in pursuit of leviathan traces the american whaling industry from its rise in the 1840s to its precipitous fall at the end of the nineteenth century using detailed and comprehensive data that describe more than four thousand whaling voyages from new bedford massachusetts the leading nineteenth century whaling port the authors explore the market for whale products crew quality and labor contracts and whale biology and distribution and assess the productivity of the american fleet they then examine new whaling techniques developed at the end of the nineteenth century such as modified clippers and harpoons and the introduction of darting guns despite the common belief that the whaling industry declined due to a fall in whale stocks the authors argue that the industry s collapse was related to changes in technology and market conditions providing a wealth of historical information in pursuit of leviathan is a classic industry study that will provide intriguing reading for anyone interested in the history of whaling the cover image world map by fra mauro c 1450 is one of the most important and famous maps of all time this monumental map of the world was created by the monk fra mauro in his monastery on the island of san michele in the venetian lagoon now the centrepiece of the biblioteca nazionale marciana in st marc s square in venice the map in its nearly 600 year history has never left venice until now renowned for its sheer size over 2 3 metres square and stunning colours the map was made at a time of transition between the medieval world view and new knowledge uncovered by the great voyages of discovery brilliantly painted and illuminated on sheets of oxhide the sphere of the earth is surrounded by the sphere of the ocean in the ancient way yet fra mauro included the latest information on exploration by portuguese and arab navigators commissioned by king afonso v of portugal it is the last of the great medieval world maps to inspire navigators in the age of discovery to explore beyond the indian ocean

The Mariner's Mirror 1995
