immunity is as old as illness itself yet historians have only just begun to take up the challenge of reconstructing the modern transformation of attempts to protect against disease crafting immunity assembles in one volume the most recent efforts of an international group of scholars to place the diverse practices of immunity in their historical contexts it is this diversity that provides the book with its greatest source of strength collectively the papers in this volume suggest that it was the craft like small scale and local conditions of clinical medicine that turned the immunity of individuals and populations into biomedical objects that is to say the modern conception of immunity was at least as much the product of the work of healing as it was the systematic result of discoveries about the immune system working outside the narrow confines of laboratory histories crafting immunity is the first attempt to set the problems of immunity into a variety of social technological institutional and intellectual contexts it will appeal not only to historians and sociologists of health but also to social and cultural historians interested in the biomedical creation of modern health regimens

this book describes the fabrication of a frequency based electronic tongue using a modified glassy carbon electrode gce opening a new field of applying organic precursors to achieve nanostructure growth it also presents a new approach to optimizing nanostructures by means of statistical analysis the chemical vapor deposition cvd method was utilized to grow vertically aligned carbon nanotubes cnts with various aspect ratios to increase the graphitic ratio of synthesized cnts sequential experimental strategies based on response surface methodology were employed to investigate the crystallinity of cnts in the next step glucose oxidase gox was immobilized on the optimized multiwall carbon nanotubes gelatin mwcnts gl composite using the entrapment technique to achieve enzyme catalyzed oxidation of glucose at anodic potentials which was drop casted onto the gce the modified gce s performance indicates that a gox mwcnts gl gc electrode can be utilized as a glucose biosensor with a high direct electron transfer rate between gox and mwcnts gl it was possible to use the fabricated biosensor as an electronic tongue thanks to a frequency based circuit attached to the electrochemical cell the results indicate that the modified gce with gox mwcnts gl holds promising potential for application in voltammetric electronic tongues details of all published arthurian work post 1978 to 1992 if one wants to scoop up nearly everything on an arthurian subject there is no substitute for the arthurian bibliography series anglia in 1981 the first arthurian bibliography appeared an exhaustive alphabetical author listing of all critical material recorded in the standard arthurian bibliographies up to 1978 this was followed in 1983 by the second volume giving full indexes by topic key word and individual work author to form a complete subject index of every topic in arthurian literature summaries and reviews were also indicated where they existed arthurian bibliography iii updates this invaluable reference work for arthurian scholars to 1992 compiled from the bbsia it conveniently contains both author listing and subject index in one volume
