Forthcoming Books 2003 tracking truth presents a unified treatment of knowledge evidence and epistemological realism and anti realism about scientific theories a wide range of knowledge related phenomena especially but not only in science strongly favour the idea of tracking as the key to what makes something knowledge a subject who tracks the truth an idea first formulated by robert nozick has the ability to follow the truth through time and changing circumstances epistemologists rightly concluded that nozick's theory was not viable but a simple revision of that view is not only viable but superior to other current views in this new tracking account of knowledge in contrast to the old view knowledge has the property of closure under known implication and troublesome counterfactuals are replaced with well defined conditional probability statements of particular interest are the new view's treatment of skepticism reflective knowledge lottery propositions knowledge of logical truth and the question why knowledge is power in the baconian sense ideally evidence indicates a hypothesis and discriminates it from other possible hypotheses this is the idea behind a tracking view of evidence and sherrilyn roush provides a defence of a confirmation theory based on the likelihood ratio the accounts of knowledge and evidence she offers provide a deep and seamless explanation of why having better evidence makes one more likely to have knowledge roush approaches the question of epistemological realism about scientific theories through the question what is required for evidence and rejects both traditional realist and traditional anti realist positions in favour of a new position which evaluates realist claims in a piecemeal fashion according to a general standard of evidence the results show that while anti realists were immodest in declaring a priori what science could not do realists were excessively sanguine about how far our actual evidence has so far taken us

Teaching Science with Favorite Picture Books 2002-02 brute force looks at people having the most contact with everyday animal abuse humane law enforcement officers who are charged with enforcing anti cruelty statutes the author spent one year studying 30 animal cops and dispatchers in two large cities they see themselves as a power for the helpless a voice for the mute on the job experience changes this view rather than fighting the good fight against egregious cases of cruelty they are overwhelmed with complaints that are ambiguous and must be stretched to qualify as legally defined abuse or with complaints of barking dogs or thin pets that are used in interpersonal disputes to get neighbors or spouses into trouble even more discouraging to officers are clear cut and extreme cases of cruelty that do not lead to guilty verdicts or stiff penalties in court resulting cynicism is aggravated when rookies realize that they are seen as second rate wannabe cops or closet animal extremists with little legitimate authority to enforce the law animal cops become humane educators who try to make people into responsible pet owners

Reading About High-Interest Jobs (RL 3) 2003 wanted teaching positions available for young men and women who are on the surface confident and outgoing individuals must be capable of being molded into whatever the reporting administrator deems appropriate for his or her school potential applicants must have a high tolerance for parental abuse low pay and long hours out of the box thinkers and non conformers need not apply after six years of college tiffany morgan is ready to make a difference and enters the world of public education she is quickly sucked into a profession that is both corrupt and prejudiced she learns that her confident and outgoing personality will be her downfall tiffany s unwillingness to succumb to the bully mentality of her bosses leads her on a continuous journey for the perfect school visit some of the worst schools in the nation and witness degrading immoral illegal and sophomoric shenanigans at every level from administrators to school superintendents and beyond tiffany and her colleagues suffer daily abuse at the hand of principals and parents despite their constant cries for help they have no one to turn to for support while the war between teachers and administrators rages on the students are caught in the middle
