this book explores how educational institutions have failed to recognize and effectively address the symptoms of trauma in students of all ages given the prevalence of traumatic events in our world including the covid 19 pandemic gross argues that it is time for educational institutions and those who work within them to change their approaches and responses to traumatic symptoms that manifest in students in schools and colleges these changes can alter how and what we teach how we train teachers how we structure our calendars and create our schedules how we address student behavior and disciplinary issues and how we design our physical space drawing on real life examples and scenarios that will be familiar to educators this resource provides concrete suggestions to assist institutions in becoming trauma responsive environments including replicable macro and microchanges book features focuses on trauma within the early childhood adult educational pipeline explains how trauma is often cumulative with recent traumatic events often triggering a revival of traumatic symptomology from decades ago provides clarifications of currently used terms and scoring systems and offers new and alternative approaches to identifying and ameliorating trauma includes visual images to augment the descriptions in the text one of the leading casebooks in the field the law of debtors and creditors features 39 problem sets with realistic questions a lawyer considers in managing a bankruptcy case it also challenges the students with the major policy and theoretical questions in the field the text features a functional organization as a bankruptcy case would unfold the focus is on teaching through the realistic problems complete with ethical difficulties embedded into the fact patterns the presentation is lively and colloquial explanatory text throughout makes bankruptcy law accessible to students and easier to teach because it divides the subject between consumer and business bankruptcy professors can select the depth of coverage for each subject in designing a two three or four credit class the authors senator elizabeth warren congresswoman katie porter and professors pottow michigan and westbrook texas are among the most prominent in the field uniquely comprehensive teacher s manual chock full of material on how to design class around the problem sets citations to new cases and literature and suggestions for steering class discussion new to the eighth edition the emergence of a whole new form of chapter 11 bankruptcy the small business reorganization act in subchapter v just as the covid19 crisis exploded the impact of recent supreme court decisions including jevic merit management midland funding and wellness new cases and issues since the seventh edition updated materials on 363 sales incorporation of discussion of abi commission on consumer bankruptcy reform a number of interesting new problems professors and students will benefit from separation of consumer bankruptcy from business bankruptcy professors can select the depth of coverage for each subject lively explanatory text makes bankruptcy law accessible to students and easier to teach engagement of current events and economic trends discussion of many recent cases 39 problem sets featuring the realistic questions a lawyer considers in applying the statutory provisions in a bankruptcy case substantial discussion of the ethical questions that arise in bankruptcy practice and including ethical issues in the problems students must solve functional organization as a bankruptcy case would unfold rather than using some artificial paradigm chapters specifically devoted to bankruptcy theory consumer and business to international insolvencies and to important ethics issue in the consumer and business contexts problem sets designed to combine doctrinal transactional and theoretical issues this book provides a comparative appraisal of global developments in the area of consumer bankruptcy and overindebtedness a prequel to the lady lucy series youngsters are introduced to lucy and some of her animal friends in this book she goes in search of a giraffe one animal she has never seen through simple word use repetition and hide and seek this book will become a favorite importantly too the story messages the importance of respecting diversity at all levels all modern legal systems with advanced economies must address the question of how to respond to the needs of insolvent consumers whose burden of debt greatly exceeds their capacity to repay within a reasonable time frame this study surveys comparatively the insolvency regimes currently in place or likely to be adopted in the foreseeable future in canada the united states australia england and wales scotland scandinavia and a representative group of western countries on the continent of europe modern legal systems have two basic alternatives in providing relief for over committed consumers the first which involves restricting the enforcement of individual creditor remedies is a method with which this study is not concerned where the consumer is seriously insolvent and owes money to many creditors a different approach is required a collective solution to debtor s problems and this the solution provided by modern insolvency systems is the focus of this study a volume that introduces new sources and offers fresh perspectives on a key era of transition this book is of value to art historians and historians alike from the dissolution of the carolingian empire to the onset of the so called 12th century renaissance the transformative 10th 11th centuries witnessed the production of a significant number of illuminated manuscripts from present day france belgium spain and italy alongside the better known works from anglo saxon england and the holy roman empire while the hybrid styles evident in book painting reflect the movement and re organization of people and codices many of the manuscripts also display a highly creative engagement with the art of the past likewise their handling of subject matter whether common or new for book illumination attests to vibrant artistic energy and innovation on the basis of rarely studied scientific religious and literary manuscripts the contributions in this volume address a range of issues including the engagement of 10th 11th century bookmakers with their carolingian and antique legacies the interwoven geographies of book production and matters of modern politics and historiography that have shaped the study of this complex period an eye opening read in the school of barbara ehrenreich s nickel dimed shines a bright light on the economy s darker side publishers weekly starred review drive through a low income neighborhood and you re likely to see streets lined with pawnshops check cashers rent to own stores payday and tax refund lenders auto title pawns and buy here pay here used car lots we re awash in alternative financial services directed at the poor and those with credit problems howard karger describes this world as an economic wild west where just about any financial scheme that s not patently illegal is tolerated taking a hard look at this fringe economy karger shows that what seem to be small independent storefront operations are actually part of a fully formed parallel economy dominated by a handful of well financed corporations subject to little or no oversight with increasingly strong ties to mainstream financial institutions it is a hidden world karger writes where a customer s economic fate is sealed with a handshake a smile and a stack of fine print documents that would befuddle many attorneys filled with heartbreaking stories of real people trapped in perpetual debt shortchanged exposes the deceptive practices that allow these businesses to prey on people when they are most vulnerable karger reveals the many ways this industry has run amok ruining countless people s lives and shows that it s not just the poor but more and more maxed out middle class consumers who fall prey to these devious schemes balancing compassion with a realistic awareness of the risks any business faces in working with an economically distressed clientele karger details hard headed practical recommendations for reforming this predatory industry the serial set contains the house and senate documents and the house and senate reports this volume includes house reports from 107th congress 2nd session 2002 this powerful book explores how institutions of higher education can successfully serve breakaway students first generation low income students who are trying to break away from the past in order to create a more secure future the gap between low ses and high ses students persists as efforts to close it have not met with great success in this provocative book gross offers a new approach to addressing inequities by focusing on students who have succeeded despite struggling with the impacts of poverty and trauma gross draws on her experience as a college president to outline practical steps that postsecondary institutions can take to create structures of support and opportunity that build reciprocal trust students must trust their institutions and professors professors must trust their students and eventually students must learn to trust themselves
