further developing the line of argument put forward in his literature as communication 2000 and mediating criticism 2001 roger d sell now suggests that when so called literary texts stand the test of time and appeal to a large and heterogeneous circle of admirers this is because they are genuinely dialogical in spirit their writers rather than telling other people what to do or think or feel invite them to compare notes and about topics which take on different nuances as seen from different points of view so while such texts obviously reflect the taste and values of their widely various provenances they also channel a certain respect for the human other to whom they are addressed so much so that they win a reciprocal respect from members of their audience in sell s new book this ethical interplay becomes the focus of a post postmodern critique which sees literary dialogicality as a possible catalyst to new non hegemonic kinds of globalization the argument is illustrated with major reassessments of shakespeare pope wordsworth dickens churchill orwell and pinter and there are also studies of trauma literature for children and of ethically oriented criticism itself any artistic creation be it a painting or sculpture initiates a reaction within us invoking within us a desire to analyse or evaluate it the criticism of art definitely has its presence but the question is in what form and of what relevance is it art criticism is exclusively presented in the written form it does not consist of descriptions of pictures interpretations or re creations but of something new and autonomous related to the piece of art in some way criticism always gives us novel ideas for modern art which in turn enriches the indian heritage art has been part of our life since ancient times traditionally indian art writing was mainly composed of commentaries on courtly art conventions and on the poetic texts that inspired paintings and sculptures since the 20th century there has been a breakdown of established conceptions of meaning in the all streams of arts and several rapid changes in artistic style this book will help readers understand the journey of modern art criticism since indian independence it formulates as precisely as possible the basic principles and norms that will enrich artistically sensitive laymen and critics alike as traced by roger d sell literary communication is a process of community making as long as literary authors and those responding to them respect each other s human autonomy literature flourishes as an enjoyable though often challenging mode of interaction that is truly dialogical in spirit this gives rise to author respondent communities whose members represent existential commonalities blended together with historical differences these heterogeneous literary communities have a larger social significance in that they have long served as counterweights to the hegemonic tendencies of modernity and more recently to postmodernity s well intentioned but restrictive politics of identity in post postmodern times their ethos is increasingly one of pleasurable egalitarianism the despondent anti hedonism of the twentieth century intelligentsia can now seem rather dated some of the papers selected for this volume develop sell s ideas in mainly theoretical terms but most of them offer detailed criticism of particular anglophone writers ranging from shakespeare ben jonson and other poets and dramatists of the early modern period through wordsworth and coleridge to dickens pinter and rushdie
