to co exist with humans and each other a powerful story of self discovery survival in the wild los angeles times four travelers meet in bolivia and set off into the heart of the amazon rainforest but what begins as a dream adventure guickly deteriorates into a dangerous nightmare and after weeks of wandering in the dense undergrowth the four backpackers split up into two groups but when a terrible rafting accident separates him from his partner yossi is forced to survive for weeks alone against one of the wildest backdrops on the planet stranded without a knife map or survival training he must improvise shelter and forage for wild fruit to survive as his feet begin to rot during raging storms as he loses all sense of direction and as he begins to lose all hope he wonders whether he will make it out of the jungle alive the basis of an upcoming motion picture jungle is the story of friendship and the teachings of nature and a terrifying true account that you won t be able to put down andy and her twin brother tony are four wheeling in the woods near their family cabin when they notice the sky has turned a sickly shade of green moments later the sky erupts into a raucous thunderstorm and they reforced to take cover beneath an abandoned ranger tower when the sky grows eerily calm they guickly get back on their four wheelers and race home only to find a massive funnel cloud blocking their way the twins dodge falling trees and debris in search of shelter only to become faced with an even bigger dilemma is it safer to keep moving nnnnnnnn i cannot tell you how or why i survived i do not know myself it is like this love and music and memory and invisible hands and something that comes out of the society of the living and the dead for which there are no words so begins the extraordinary story of one man s experience of cambodia s holocaust during the 1970s as anne frank did in her diary daran kravanh takes readers into the heart of a horrifying tragedy one that claimed the lives of his parents and seven siblings and as many as three million other cambodians among those murdered were thousands of intellectuals and artists as a musician daran was himself a target for execution but it was his talent for playing the accordion that saved his life find out more about daran kravanh s music allison catsworth discovers she has a problem while falling to her death she sees not her life flash before her eves but her reflection a moment of fear brings about transformation into a cat that enables her to land on all four paws which saves her life yet it is in that moment that everything for ally changes a search for answers leads to hypnotic life regression where she discovers past lives of a lab assistant connected to world war ii and feline dna that is changing her own dna while dodging the press and various cults she starts ticking down her nine lives in hopes of finding the answers and the solutions to this mystery before her time is up this is a moving story told with great passion about the experiences of a young girl during world war ii it has themes that need to be told to each new generation as we reflect on the conflict from a perspective of 75 years on the positive side there is the strength of the human spirit love of family and the generosity of strangers on the reverse there is the brutality of political dictatorship the ravages of wartime and the human barbarity of undisciplined soldiers as the generation of world war ii passes it is critical they leave behind an account however painful of what they witnessed and the lessons to be learned robert neymeyer ph d peter hanson has left his happy place on kangaroo island in search of precious gems in columbia there is no doubt that something bad is going to come of this will his military friends be forced to leave their homes in order to go and find him back in south australia his daughter emma is left in charge of running the gold claim with her aunt sheila and cozzie while he s away after the public finds out that gold has been found on the island there are suddenly a lot more people on the back roads what else could possibly go wrong a thrilling piece of undiscovered history this is the true account of a young jewish woman who survived world war ii in berlin in 1942 marie jalowicz a twenty vear old jewish berliner made the extraordinary decision to do everything in her power to avoid the concentration camps she removed her vellow star took on an assumed identity and disappeared into the city in the years that followed marie took shelter wherever it was offered living with the strangest of bedfellows from circus performers and committed communists to convinced nazis as marie quickly learned however compassion and cruelty are very often two sides of the same coin fifty years later marie agreed to tell her story for the first time told in her own voice with unflinching honesty underground in berlin is a book like no other of the surreal sometimes absurd day to day life in wartime berlin this might be just one woman's story but it gives an unparalleled glimpse into what it truly means to be human what gualities are needed when your life is in danger not merely once or twice but on several occasions as author myriam miedzian shows in this richly detailed story of the lives of her polish jewish father and family it takes tenacity forethought ingenuity strength and courage during world war i the anti semitic polish authorities imprisoned young henvek miedzianagora and his father and brother on a trumped up charge of spying for the germans rebuffed by military authorities henyek s tenacious mother sought out a nobleman business acquaintance of her husband and persuaded him that a mistake had been made with his help her husband and sons were set free the day of their scheduled execution it required courage when as a schoolboy henyek decided to go awol and risk being shot for desertion rather than experience the pointless slaughter of the polish soviet war of 1919 21 in 1930 henvek moved to belgium where he married and had two children his awareness of the fragility of existence in a world that can turn hostile at any moment a legacy no doubt of his early harrowing experiences led him to leave brussels immediately on may 10 1940 when the germans attacked belgium and not turn back the family eventually reached new york via france spain and morocco where they spent close to a year henyek had the extraordinary foresight in 1936 to deposit 10 000 in a bank account in the united states just in case sure enough the money made it possible to obtain visas to the u s in a bravura performance of recollection reimagination and characterization myriam miedzian relates the incredible story of her father s three passages from peril to safety in her father s voice completing this work of generations myriam s daughter nadia malinovich a professor of jewish history fleshes out the historical and cultural background of her grandfather and indeed great grandfather s life in poland and belgium during the first half of the twentieth century ten true stories of survival against the odds from shark attacks and blazing airships to exploding spacecraft and sinking submarines these are real life stories of people who have stared death in the face and lived to tell the tale in hardcover format adapted from usborne s true stories paperback series on 17th november 2012 salvador alvarenga left the coast of mexico for a two day fishing trip a vicious storm killed his engine and the current dragged his boat out to sea the storm picked up and carried him west deeper into the heart of the pacific ocean alvarenga would not touch solid ground again for 14 months when he was washed ashore on january 30th 2014 he had drifted over 9 000 miles three dozen cruise ships and container vessels passed nearby not one stopped for the stranded fisherman he considered suicide on multiple occasions including offering himself up to a pack of circling sharks but alvarenge developed a method of survival that kept his body and mind intact long enough for the pacific ocean to spit him up onto a remote palm studded island crawling ashore he was saved by a local couple living in their own private castaway paradise based on dozens of hours of interviews with alvarenga and his colleagues search and rescue officials the medical team that saved his life and the remote islanders who nursed him back to normality 438 days by jonathan franklin is an epic tale of survival and one man s incredible story of beating the
