ricoh gr1v film camera review casual photophile Feb 28 2024

ricoh s user manual describes the gr1v in the typically understated fashion used by many japanese companies as an ultra slim 135 film format af camera and it s certainly all of that it s also gorgeous solidly made and exceptionally capable the ricoh gr1v my final thoughts 35mmc Jan 29 2024

from the gr1s and on to the ricoh gr1v there were also a few improvements made to the ricoh gr1v over the first and second generation models of theses final improvements the primary one for me is the manual iso override this is a review of the gr1v the latest and best version of the gr1 series with the ability to manually control film speed in one third stop increments and focussed distance manual focus presets are 1 2 3 and 5 meters and infinity this is an adequate range of settings for the 28 mm focal length film camera review the ricoh gr1v in 2018 keithwee Apr 19 2023 the gr1v comes with a very good set of auto focusing and manual focusing modes firstly the gr1v is the only film compact that allows you a choice of not only manual preset distances 1m 2m 3m 5m and infinity single or multi point af modes but also an infinity lock ricoh gr1 the path to enlightenment part 2 35mmc Feb 15 2023 the first version has a simple but very effective feature set the iso is set automatically via dx coding and has no manual override the gr1v does have dx override some amount of manual control can be achieved with the 2ev control on the top left as you hold it off the camera

ricoh gr1 and gr1s 135compact com Jan 17 2023

in 2001 there was a gr1v model which adds dx override an auto bracketing mode and manual focus has 6 steps instead of 4 the latter is still far from the 22 steps of the minolta tc 1 or the 17 steps of the fuji super mini the gr1v model is the most sought after it s price is often twice the gr1 price tag

the ricoh gr1 film camera camera legend Dec 16 2022

the original gr1 and gr1s have no manual iso selection the gr1s added supposedly better coatings a backlit lcd and the ability to use filters but is pretty much the same camera the gr1v has it all plus manual iso selection in addition to a few other features like a more flexible snap mode
