sometime toward the middle of the twelfth century it is supposed an otherwise obscure figure born a jew in cologne and later ordained as a priest in cappenberg in westphalia wrote a latin account of his conversion to christianity known as the opusculum this book purportedly by herman the former jew may well be the first autobiography to be written in the west after the confessions of saint augustine it may also be something else entirely in the conversion of herman the jew the eminent french historian jean claude schmitt examines this singular text and the ways in which it has divided its readers where some have seen it as an authentic conversion narrative others have asked whether it is not a complete fabrication forged by christian clerics for schmitt the question is poorly posed the work is at once true and fictional and the search for its lone author whether converted jew or not fruitless herman may well have existed and contributed to the writing of his life but the opusculum 2010 explorer mountaineer sport trac collective work perhaps framed to meet a specific institutional agenda
