this book in its entirety as well as in each of its parts is an outline of the problems under discussion the subject matter of some eighty sections of the book is extensive it could indeed be presented by experts in as many volumes this study offers an attempt to formulate a synthesis however difficult of the vast amount of available material unlike the well known standard introductions to international law which deal with all the major fields of international law this book treats exclusively the present conceptions of that law as expressed in legal literature international treaties and other agreements international judgements and awards governmental and diplomatic statements and the like special attention is devoted in several chapters of the book to the teachings of the most highly qualified publicists of the various nations which are considered by article 38 paragraph 1 d of the statute of the international court of justice as subsidiary means for the determination of rules of law an endeavor is made to ascertain whether in certain fields of the theory of international law a communis opinio doctorum has either been reached or is in the process of achievement some readers may consider that there are too many quotations from writings of publicists others will certainly feel as does this writer that too many outstanding international lawyers have not been included

The Concept of an International Organization in International Law 2021

this new edition of hugh thirlway's authoritative text provides an introduction to one of the fundamental questions of the discipline what is and what is not a source of international law traditionally treaties between states and state practice were seen as the primary means with which to create international law however more recent developments have recognized customary international law alongside international treaties and instruments as a key foundation upon which international law is built this book provides an insightful inquiry into all the recognized or asserted sources of international law it investigates the impact of ethical principles on the creation of international law whether soft law norms come into being through the same sources as binding international law and whether jus cogens norms and those involving rights and obligations erga omnes have a unique place in the creation of international legal norms it studies the notion of general principles of international law within international law's sub disciplines and the evolving relationship between treaty based law and customary international law re examining the traditional model it investigates the increasing role of international jurisprudence and looks at the nature of international organisations and non state actors as potential new sources of international law this revised and updated book provides a perfect introduction to the

this book revisits the theory of the sources of international law from the perspective of formalism it critically analyses the virtues of formalism construed as a theory of law ascertainment as a means of distinguishing between law and non law the theory of formalism is re evaluated against the backdrop of the growing acceptance by international legal theorists of the blurring of the lines between law and non law at the same time the book acknowledges that much international normative activity nowadays takes place outside the ambit of traditional international law and that only a limited part of the exercise of public authority at the international level results in the creation of international legal rules the theory of ascertainment that the book puts forward attempts to dispel some of the illusions of formalism that accompany the traditional sources of international law it also sheds light on the tendency of scholars theorists and advocates to deformalize the identification of international legal rules with a view to expanding international law the book seeks to revitalize and refresh the formal identification of rules by engaging with some tenets of the postmodern critique of formalism as a result the book not only grapples with the practice of law making at the international level but it also offers broad theoretical insights on international law dealing with the main schools of thought in legal theory positivism naturalism legal realism policy oriented jurisprudence and postmodernism this paperback edition features the author s discussion of this book on the ejil talk blog this book examines theoretical and practical issues concerning the relationship between international law time and history problems relating to time and history are ever present in the work of international lawyers whether understood in terms of the role of historic practice in the doctrine of sources the application of the principle of inter temporal law in dispute settlement or in gaining a coherent insight into the role that was played by international law in past events but very little has been written about the various different ways in which international lawyers approach or understand the past and it is with a view to exploring the dynamics of that engagement that this book has been compiled in its broadest sense it is possible to identify at least three different ways in which the relationship between international law and its history may be conceived the first is that of a history of international law written in narrative form and mapped out in terms of a teleology of origins development progress or renewal the second is that of history in international law and of the role history plays in arguments about law itself for example in the construction of customary international law the third way of understanding that relationship is in terms of international law in history of understanding how international law has been engaged in the creation of a history that in some senses stands outside the history of international law itself the essays in this collection make clear that each type of engagement with history and international law interweaves various different types of historical narrative pointing to the typically multi layered nature of international lawyers engagement with the past and its importance in shaping the present and future of

in its forty fourth session the general assembly of the united nations proclaimed the 1990s as the decade of international law one of the main purposes of the decade is the promotion of effective means for peaceful international dispute settlement and especially strenghtening the role of and respect for the international court of justice the principal judicial organ of the united nations the editors of this book contribute to this aim by bringing together a variety of opinions by international legal experts on peaceful dispute settlement the subject is approached from different angles ranging from the role of the international law commission and the non aligned movement to human rights and space law disputes in order to identify areas of international law where room exists for further development of existing means for peaceful settlement of international disputes a general conclusion which can be drawn from this survey is that the focus of attention should not be aimed primarily at strenghtening the role of the international court of justice e g by amending some of its rules or by trying to increase its political acceptability through diplomatic efforts instead the focus should be on small scale improvements within specific areas of international law with an emphasis on the relation between dispute settlement and supervision furthermore it seems essential for a real improvement to give non governmental organisations or private persons a greater role in upholding the rule of international law whether in domestic courts or in international fora this work has been published previously in the leiden journal of international law special issue 3 Ijil 90
