a comparative approach to media and communication research plays an important if not indispensable role in achieving a core mission of researchers to delimit the generality and specificity of media and communication theories enabling researchers to more readily identify the influence of social political and cultural contexts in shaping media and communication phenomena to de westernize and internationalize media and communication studies has thus become the way forward for overcoming the parochialism of mainstream media and communication studies this volume reflects on what comparative media and communication research has achieved or failed to achieve the epistemological and theoretical challenges it is facing and the new directions in which it should be heading

Case Studies in Comparative Politics 2012-06-20

seeing the restrictions of former studies in comparative literature and aiming to amend these deficiencies the author of this book mainly discusses the major theoretical significance and academic value of the variation theory in the whole process of the development of comparative literature in the world in china the seminal comparative study of literature among different cultures can be dated back to ancient china while the founding of comparative literature as a distinct academic discipline has to be largely owing to the influence of the west the modern chinese study of comparative literature formed its uniqueness under western influence the direct influence of the translation of western theories into china is remarkable however in the course of translation and reception of western theories chinese comparatists and intellectuals have been encountering various problems and solving them with an alternative method accordingly different from the traditional methods proposed by the french school and the american school therefore in this book modern chinese study of comparative literature is put in a historical context with regard to the theoretical issue of the discipline in china through the entire 20th century at present many scholars in china and in other countries agree that with the influence study proposed by the french school and the study of analogy advocated by the american school the entire theoretical system of comparative literature is well built however when the comparative study of literature between east and west is concerned the theory of comparative literature is far from perfect it is not only because many problems still exist but there are significant defects in their theoretical bases respectively many researches have proven that even with the influence study and the study of analogy we still can not solve many problems in the practice of studies in comparative literature this does not mean that we have no respect for the contributions of the french school and the american school we just want to attach importance to literary variations which is a phenomenon that has long been neglected the purpose of putting forward the variation theory in comparative literature is to provide new perspectives new methods and new theory to the study of comparative literature which may be a major breakthrough in the international arena of comparative literature the neglect of literary variation is mainly because all the previous theories about comparative literature start off in search of similarities but not differences accordingly in 1990s heterogeneity as a premise of comparability was put forward and later the variation theory was further advanced it is not only the important phenomenon in literary communication but also the most valuable research object in comparative literature still it will be an important path to cultural innovation the variation theory may make up the major flaws of theories by both french school and the american school since it focus on heterogeneity and variability in cross cultural literary events especially the ones of inter civilization which will be a new course for comparative literature throughout the history of literature and the history of literary communication collisions between different civilizations have always been producing new literary events which make the heterogeneity of different civilizations and variability traceable the higher stage of literary communication may mean dialogue and blend between different cultures the overarching concerns of this book include different levels of variation in literary communication and the studies of different objects the introduction begins with a literature review of major achievements made by the french school and the american school with pointing out what they have neglected the body of the book is divided into three parts in the first part chapter 1 deals with the major contributions of influence study and its weaknesses the origination of comparative literature in most of european countries is reviewed first and then the major contributions of the french school are listed to point out its merits and weaknesses the author discusses the relation between influence study and the variation theory and the importance of the french school in theoretical development of comparative literature is stressed too chapter 2 offers a critical introduction and reflection on the study of analogy both its major contributions and weaknesses are made clear to further illustrate the relationship between interpretation and the variation theory and the discursive variation is discussed part ii is a transitional part with only one chapter that gives a clear account of phenomenon of variation from international perspective part iii consists of four chapters chapter 4 offers a detailed description of the variation theory in cross languages context chapter 5 deals with cross cultural variation in homogeneous circle of civilization chapter 6 discusses the variation among heterogeneous civilization for a long period of time the theoretical study of comparative literature in china has largely been confined to the chinese academic arena thus has long been neglected on one hand western comparatists have gradually realized the importance of a non western perspective in the study of the discipline on the other hand few books are available to introduce the recent development of comparative literature study in china compared with the enthusiastic reception of the theories of the french school and the american school the theories of chinese comparatists receives relatively little attention in western countries in this sense the proposed book attempts to challenge the myth of monolithic theories of comparative literature trying to construct an alternative theory of the discipline
