Groceries Code Adjudicator Bill (HL) 2012-07-20 the commons business innovation and skills committee calls for changes to the bill creating an adjudicator for disputes between suppliers and retailers under the groceries code evidence was heard of some improvement in code compliance but there is evidence too of continuing difficulties and of reluctance by suppliers to invoke their rights under the code the adjudicator will provide protection for suppliers in the form of a cloak of anonymity and will have its own powers to investigate alleged bad practice and it is agreed that those powers are needed so that suppliers will feel more secure in coming forward the committee does not believe however that the adjudicator needs powers to investigate proactively without any supporting complaint they do recommend widening the scope of the bill to cover additional sources allowing indirect suppliers such as farmers and trade associations and whistleblowers to put forward their own evidence of code breaches that would spark an investigation by the adjudicator they disagree with the introduction of fines and propose that fines be an available penalty from the start not least so that the adjudicator s performance can be judged on the basis of a full package of remedies the report also makes a number of suggestions on how the issue of costs should be addressed including an early review of the adjudicator s performance

Groceries Code Adjudicator Bill (HL) 2012-06-20 obesity and diet related illness is on the increase fewer young people are being taught how to cook or grow food and advertisers are targeting kids with junk food ads at the same time the world faces growing fears about food security as the global population increases more people eat meat and dairy and the climate destabilises as a result of forest destruction and fossil fuel use the committee in summary recommends stricter advertising limits on junk food marketing food skills such as cooking and gardening should be part of the curriculum in all schools new national planning policy guidance for local authorities should ensure communities have access to healthy food and land to grow their own produce government buying standards for food must be improved on meat and dairy and extended to cover hospitals prisons and schools the office of fair trading s remit should be amended so supermarkets are not blocked from cooperating on sustainability initiatives and the scope for simple and consistent labelling on the sustainability of food products should be examined the report warns that there is no overarching food strategy in place defra s green food project due in june examines only part of the food system and the focus on sustainable intensification risks ignoring wider social and health implications the uk does not currently have the basic science base to deliver more sustainable food and relying on markets to identify and to direct where the research is needed is likely to fail an independent body to research gm crops and their impacts should also be established

Groceries Code Adjudicator Bill (HL) 2012-06-15 dairy farming is of considerable economic and social importance to wales accounting for a third of all agricultural production by value and employing thousands of people the dairy industry in wales has an estimated total economic output of about 420m one third 30 of all wales agricultural production there are 1 901 dairy farmers in wales who produce 1 5 billion litres of milk per year 12 of the total uk milk volume the 224 000 dairy cattle in wales constitute about 12 of the uk dairy herd long standing cost pressures on dairy farmers came to a head in a crisis in summer last year 2012 when processors announced a series of milk price reductions to be implemented at short notice the committee s key conclusions are i the new voluntary code of practice is an important step forward to redress the balance in the contractual relationship between dairy producer and purchaser ii the committee urges all dairy processors who have not yet signed the voluntary code to do so iii the code must be given time to work iv should the voluntary code fail the uk government must legislate for a statutory code of contracts

Groceries Code Adjudicator Bill (Lords) 2012-12-12 drawing on reports from committees evidence from outside observers and academic research this report concludes that two years after the general election and the wright reforms the evidence is broadly encouraging although committees face some obstacles and there is room for improvement the old doctrine by which ministers alone are accountable to parliament for the conduct of their department is being stretched to implausibility and there is a need for a changed approach it recommends that the government engage with the liaison committee in a review of the relationship between government and select committees with the aim of producing joint guidelines for departments and committees which recognise ministerial accountability the proper role of the civil service and the legitimate wish of parliament for more effective accountability the report also makes numerous recommendations for committees including that they be forward looking in scrutiny of departmental performance devoting less effort to raking over the coals of past events unless there are lessons to be learnt give more attention to the financial implications of departmental policy and how departments assess the effectiveness of their spending experiment with different approaches to evidence taking broaden the range of witnesses and make more use of commissioned research follow up recommendations to ensure that reports have impact and report to the house at least once each session on what has been done the committee intends to ask the backbench business committee for time for a debate in the house of commons on a motion endorsing its conclusions and recommendations

Groceries Code Adjudicator Bill (HL) 2012-06-18 this fully revised new edition includes expanded coverage of parliament s relationship with the courts devolved assemblies and the european union distinctively the book goes beyond the usual focus of parliament government relations to encompass policy makers beyond whitehall and parliament s broader relationship with citizens

Groceries Code Adjudicator Bill (HL) 2013-03-12 the british system has been radically transformed in recent decades far more than most of us realise as acclaimed political scientist and bestselling author anthony king shows this transformation lies at the heart of british politics today imagining or pretending that the british political system and britain s place in the world have not greatly changed our political leaders consistently promise more than they can perform political and economic power is now widely dispersed both inside and outside the uk but westminster politicians still talk the language of attlee and churchill how exactly has the british system changed where does power now lie in who governs britain king offers the first assessment in many years of britain s governing arrangements as a whole providing much needed context for the 2015 general election

Groceries Code Adjudicator Bill (HL) 2013-02-28 worldwide pressure on milk prices has resulted from a combination of rising supply and falling demand partly because of reduced demand from china and a russian trade ban with the eu rapid and wide fluctuations in milk price bring pressure to bear on the uk dairy industry and farmers have been leaving it in significant numbers in recent years while there is no single solution to the problems created by these rapid changes in milk prices it is incumbent on the government and defra in particular to promote uk dairy produce domestically and in growing export markets action to encourage the spread of producer organisations a review of the eu intervention price for milk and clearer regulation on the labelling of dairy products could all assist a struggling industry the voluntary code of best practice in the dairy industry introduced after similar price difficulties in 2012 has been adopted by about 85 per cent of dairy producers and welcomed in improving matters as far as it goes closer attention is required however to the sharpness and frequency of price changes in the dairy market which affect investment and financial planning the groceries code adjudicator s role concerning the relationship between direct suppliers and major retailers is too restricted to be of assistance to the vast majority of dairy producers as they are indirect suppliers

16th Report of Session 2012-13: Groceries Code Adjudicator Bill (HL) Commons Amendments Enterprise and Regulatory Reform Bill Government Amendments 2013-03-07 western democratic welfare states often featured sectoral governance arrangements where governments negotiated policy with sectoral elites based on shared ideas and exclusive institutional arrangements food and agriculture policy is widely considered an extreme case of compartmentalized and exceptionalist policy making where sector specific policy ideas and institutions provide privileged access for sectoral interest groups and generate policies that benefit their members in the last two decades policy exceptionalism has been under pressure from internationalization of policy making increasing interlinkage of policy areas and trends towards self regulation liberalization and performance based policies this book introduces the concept of post exceptionalism to characterize an incomplete transformation of exceptionalist policies and politics which preserves significant exceptionalist features post exceptional constellations of ideas institutions interests and policies can be complementary and stable or tense and unstable food and agriculture policy serves as an example to illustrate an incomplete transformation towards a more open contested and networked politics chapters on agricultural policy making in the european union and the united states the politics of food in germany and the united kingdom transnational organic standard setting and global food security debates demonstrate how postexceptionalism helps to understand the co existence of transformation and path dependency in contemporary public policies the chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal of european public policy
