Reflections on 'The Concept of Law'

2011-09-22

hla hart s the concept of law is one of the most influential works of philosophy of the twentieth century redefining the field of legal philosophy and introducing generations of students to philosophical reflection on the nature of law since its publication in 1961 an industry of academic research and debate has grown up around the book disputing refining and developing hart s work under the sheer volume of competing interpretations of the book the original contexts cultural and intellectual that shaped hart s project can be obscured in this book renowned legal historian awb simpson attempts to sweep aside the volumes of academic criticism and return to troy i revealing the world of post war oxford that produced hart and his famous book drawing on his personal experience of studying and teaching in oxford at the time hart developed the concept of law simpson recreates with characteristic wit

the social and intellectual culture of oxford philosophy and the law faculty in the 1950s he traces hart s early work and influences within and outside oxford showing how hart developed his picture of philosophy and its potential for enriching the understanding of law he also lays bare the painful shortcomings of post war oxford academia depicting a world of eccentric dons and intellectual cyclopes isolated and closed to broad interdisciplinary exchange arguing that hart did not escape from the limitations of his intellectual world simpson s entertaining and controversial account of the world that produced the concept of law will be essential reading for all those engaged in interpreting and teaching the seminal book and an engaging read for anyone interested in the history of oxford philosophy and legal education surrounding children's identity rights in a changing familial order discussion of the CRC is both compelling and polarizing and the book portrays the enthusiasm around these topics through contrasting and comparative opinions on a range of topics the work provides varying perspectives from many different countries and regions offering a wealth of insight on topics that will be of significant interest to scholars and practitioners working in the areas of children's rights and justice

Mediation in the Reflection of Law and Society

despite slow progress in use mediation continues to consolidate its presence in dispute resolution this important book argues that a more favourable socio legal climate must be created for mediation to thrive and accordingly analyses the legal cultural social systemic and spatial aspects of the use of mediation in the legal practice of the different countries of the European Union EU based on a spatiotemporal analysis and models of mediation in the EU it pinpoints the social and cultural reasons for the fragmentation of its legal regulation and shows what paths are available to promote the effective implementation of mediation in social practice it is the first book to capture the socio legal context of mediation a spatiotemporal analysis of the extent of use of mediation in a region as large and at the same time as diverse as the EU has never been carried out before using various methodological and conceptual approaches to analyse the legal and social aspects of introducing mediation to legal systems the authors all with long term experience in the exercise and research of mediation directly in the field provide invaluable insights into such facets of the use of mediation as the following the social context that raises the need for mediation obstacles to the wider use of mediation in resolving disputes between parties the effects of social influences reflected in legislation that shape the laws of each country the basic models that make up the system of access to mediation in specific EU member states the role of law as a tool for social change and its reflection in the legal regulation of mediation and perspectives for further development of mediation in the EU the legislative efforts proposed to enhance the regulation of mediation in EU countries are based on modern knowledge of law sociology and psychology as a unique combination of exploration of the theoretical determinants of mediation and an empirical study of the extent of its use in the European area this book's fundamental contribution to the legal theory and practice of mediation is inarguable its analysis of mediation from three perspectives as a means of improving citizens access to justice as a means of applying social justice in society and as a means of restorative justice are of the utmost value in today's global society for users of mediation EU institutions involved in mediation EU member state authorities addressing the issue of mediation and the wider dispute resolution community worldwide the book will be welcomed for the giant steps it takes toward refining arguments for the promotion of mediation and its development in theory research and practice

Invisible Institutionalisms

taking its cue from theoretical and ideological calls to challenge globalisation as a dynamic of homogenisation and resistance as led from and directed against the global north this volume asks what can we see when we shift the lens beyond a north south binary based on empirical studies of frontier zones of legal globalisation in India Pakistan and Latin America the book adopts an original format framed as a relational dialogue between newer as well as more prominent scholars within the field from various cores through to postcolonial academic peripheries it questions structural variables in the shadows of legal globalisation and how we as scholars build a space for critique

Reflections on International Law from the Low Countries

2023-09-25

the field of socio legal research has encountered three fundamental challenges over the last three decades it has been criticized for paying insufficient attention to legal doctrine for failing to develop a sound theoretical foundation and for not keeping pace with the effects of the increasing globalization and internationalization of law state and society this book examines these three challenges from a methodological standpoint it addresses the first two by demonstrating that legal sociology has much to say about justice as a kind of social experience and has always engaged theoretically with forms of normativity albeit on its own empirical terms rather than on legal theory s analytical terms the book then explores the third challenge a result of the changing nature of society by highlighting the move from the industrial relations of early modernity to the post industrial conditions of late modernity an age dominated by information technology it poses the question whether socio legal research has sufficiently reassessed its own theoretical premises regarding the relationship between law state and society so as to grasp the new social and cultural forms of organization specific to the twenty first century s global societies

Reflections on the Natural and Acquired Endowments Requisite for the Study of the Law

starting from the assertion that crisis is part of the essence of labour law this volume brings together researchers in the field who accepted the challenge to critically reflect on this branch of the discipline as the covid 19 pandemic has had a global impact labour law across the world must come to terms with a new reality in this context it would be prudent to adapt to new circumstances by taking known paths to this end this book reflects on what effectively constitutes labour law considering questions which are not usual within labour law insights from philosophical sociological and even economic standpoints are mobilised to reconcile the past with the future of labour law

the book is intended to be a contribution to comparative knowledge on what a final and constitutional court's role and significance are to governance in a developing country it provides a recently retired judge's insights into the substantive work and function of the supreme court in Ghanaian society and Ghana's legal and political system the book throws light on the role played by the supreme court in the development of Ghanaian law and the laying of the foundation for Ghana's constitutional democracy the establishment of a constitutional democracy in Ghana has been an important factor in the nation's development and the supreme court has had an important role to play in this process it will also be invaluable to both academic and practising lawyers as well as to non-lawyers interested in the function and operations of the supreme court the study of the supreme courts of emerging democracies should be given some emphasis in comparative law it is hoped that the material contained in this book will contribute to the facilitation of such emphasis

Reflections on the Making of the Modern Law of the Sea

the SARS-CoV-2 virus pandemic has halted the global economy and forced its reorganization on many levels this phenomenon caused a shock the effects of which will be felt for a long time both on the micro and macro scale creative industries including the fashion and design industries textile clothing leather and footwear tclf that are the subject of this publication are struggling to maintain normal levels of production employment financial liquidity they must additionally confront new challenges in the areas of intellectual property rights and their approach to the e-commerce world businesses found themselves faced with an uncertain future and new obstacles but also with opportunities these challenges now affect the traditionally fast-paced fashion sector which has been driven for many years by consumers' desire for ever more design and by the industry's own thirst for profit in the Polish perspective it should also be borne in mind that according to the report of PKO Bank Polski in 2019 the clothing industry in Poland showed an upward trend ranking the country in 8th place in Europe by size of the clothing sector in 2017 as for the entrepreneurs making clothing in 2017 there were 12 700 of them placing Poland third in Europe finally for employment in the same year in Poland 85 000 were employed in the clothing sector which was the 5th place in the European ranking these statistics clearly demonstrate why this sector requires closer analysis in these changed times including a refreshed SWOT analysis taking account of the new reality given this situation the Center for Design Fashion and Advertising Law of the University of Silesia initiated research to determine how the clothing sector in Poland is coping and how the legal environment interacts with the COVID challenges thanks to a joint effort of scientists and legal practitioners this publication was created consisting of 39 chapters grouped into the following 12 parts social and legal context international and regulatory context product safety contracts copyright law design law and trademark law technology law unfair competition law labour law fine arts market sustainable development e commerce the editors would like to thank all of the authors for their efforts examining the development trends in the tclf sector and for contributing the immeasurable amounts of energy and understanding that allowed us to complete this project this book is the result of the authors significant commitment editors would like to give special thanks to Śląski holding przemysłowy that shared the company s expertise about their two large industrial production plants employing over 500 employees which kept working in a continuous operation system without a single case of infection by covid 19 we are grateful to the institutions that undertook honorary patronage of our initiative words of thanks go also to the strategic content and media partners the premiere of the publication will take place in conjunction with a music premiere details of which can be found on the cover

Politics Economy and Law in Developing Asia: A Reflection on Law and Development

2015-08-27

this book studies major works of literature from classical antiquity to the present that reflect crises in the evolution of western law the move from a prelegal to a legal society in the eumenides the christianization of germanic law in njal s saga the disenchantment with medieval customary law in reynard the fox the reception of roman law in a variety of renaissance texts the conflict between law and equity in antigone and the merchant of venice the eighteenth century codification controversy in the works of kleist the modern debate between pure and free law in kafka s the trial and other fin de siècle works and the effects of totalitarianism the theory of universal guilt and anarchism in the twentieth century using principles from the anthropological theory of legal evolution the book locates the works in their legal contexts and traces through them the gradual dissociation over the centuries of law and morality it thereby associates and illuminates these masterpieces from an original point of view and contributes a new dimension to the study of literature and law in contrast to prevailing adherents of law and literature this book professes literature and law in which the emphasis is historical rather than theoretical substantive rather than rhetorical and literary rather than legal instead of adducing the literary work to illustrate debates about modern law this book consults the history of law as an essential aid to the understanding of the literary text and its conflicts
