Let's Go 4WD is a series of educational materials designed to help children learn about the four seasons and the changes in nature. The materials include colorful illustrations, simple text, and interactive activities. The first part of the series focuses on the spring season, showing how the weather warms up, the snow melts, and the flowers bloom. It also includes a section on the changes in the animals and plants during this time.

LET'S GO 4WD 2024 07 2024-06-06

The second part of the series focuses on the summer season. It describes the hot weather, the long days, and the various activities children can enjoy during this time. It also covers the changes in the environment, such as the growth of plants and the behavior of animals. The materials are designed to be engaging and easy to understand for young learners.

LET'S GO 4WD 2024 06 2024-05-07

The third part of the series focuses on the autumn season. It shows the beautiful colors of the leaves, the cooler weather, and the harvest season. It also discusses the changes in the animals and plants as they prepare for the winter. The materials include fun activities and illustrations to help children understand the seasonal changes.
