the lent easter seasons cover one fourth of the year or 25 percent of the liturgical year one of the many things we do as roman catholics is sing lenten and easter hymns during lent we express our sorrow for sin as we pray fast and give alms during easter we shout alleluias at the end of many hymns to express our praise of god for having raised christ from the dead thus those who observe lent and easter sing religious hymns written for each season the sounds of lenten hymns in minor keys give way to easter hymns in major ones this book presents an exercise for every day of lent and easter that combines the daily scripture texts from the lectionary for mass with religious hymns sung during lent and easter it is designed to be used by individuals for private prayer or by families for public prayer a six part exercise is offered for every one of the 135 entries 1 the liturgical day 2 the daily scripture texts 3 a verse from a traditional hymn 4 a reflection 5 a question for personal meditation and 6 a concluding prayer journeying with hope into a new year reflections for advent and christmas originated in 1982 when our family lived at tantur an ecumenical institute between jerusalem and bethlehem my wife nancy and i sent family and friends a letter highlighting our experience of christmastide in the holy land inspired by writing this message from afar we continue each year to write a letter with family news a moving quote from a hymn or literary work and spiritual reflections these provide the basis for thirty one meditations to be read daily through the month of december each includes a biblical text a brief meditation and a prayer these may enable readers to experience more than the commercialism of the season and be led to magnify jesus the one who is at the heart of why we celebrate christmas or write new years resolutions a line in the little prince by antoine de saint exupéry summarizes a crucial idea informing this collection and now here is my secret a very simple secret it is only with the heart that one can see rightly what is essential is invisible to the eye fr herb yost's spiritual reflections have attracted a large and devoted following over the years here for the first time the very best of his cross links columns are collected in book form what emerges from this powerful collection is how he is able to combine spiritual insight with the real stuff of daily life his reflections are both profound and playful they are always tied to the realities of daily life the anxieties and hopes complexities and contradictions that are part of our our own real experiences here are comments from some of his readers fr herb writes from his heart to our hearts more real than reality tv he doesn't sugarcoat the realities of our journeys instead he provides a more meaningful sacredness to our present moments and helps us see over the horizon as a coming home to an everlasting hug i can't help but believe fr herb's message is intended specifically for me partly it's the way he writes but more commonly it's the subject of his reflections he writes of timely and topical matters issues of the day with clarity and wisdom almost every relevant topic imaginable has been covered by fr herb over the past quarter century in a clear concise objective manner accompanied by a large dose of down home humor for levity many sides of complex issues have been demystified for me and our lord has emerged as a kind and loving father who is there for us at times of both exhilaration and broken heartedness i enjoy fr herb's reflections because they are thorough insightful and thought provoking often offering a new perspective on the subject matter living our faith on a daily basis is often challenging and his reflections have helped me while the subject may be serious the wit humor and practical advice make the reflections easy to digest this is a book to read and savor and share with a friend
