A RAW WORLD 2016-05-12 danny carson is a former army sergeant currently a civilian living in ocean city maryland things start going wrong when he finishes surfing one day and ocean city is empty he and his twin sister amber race through maryland trying to find answers to what has happened you can imagine their surprise when zombies turn out to be more than just horror movies join them on an optimistic apocalypse adventure and they struggle to find safety in a world that collapses in less than a day

Bronze Age Settlement and Land-Use in Thy, Northwest Denmark (Volume 1 & 2) 2018-06-04 this two volume monograph about the region of thy in the early bronze age provides a high resolution archaeological and ecological model of the organisation of landscape settlements and households during the period 1500 1100 bc bordering the north sea to the west and the calmer waters of the limfjord to the east the region of thy in denmark experienced four centuries of intense economic and demographic expansion by combining results from environmental and economic research pollen and palaeo botanical analyses with intensive field surveys and excavations of farmsteads with exceptional preservation it has been possible to open a window to the changes that transformed bronze age society and its environment during a few centuries of exceptional expansion and wealth consumption the results from this interdisciplinary venture made it possible to link together the histories of local farmsteads with the wider regional and global history of the bronze age in north western europe during this period here is much to feed on for students and researchers of the bronze age alike

Along the Amber Route 2020-02-27 timely and powerful financial times portable and expensive amber has always been a desirable commodity c j schüler follows the historic amber route from st petersburg to venice through three millennia of history throughout his journey current politics and his own family s experience of persecution and flight are never far from his mind as he traces the greatest fault lines of european geopolitics and explores lands contested by romans and vandals teutons and slavs empires and the former iron curtain schüler must also confront his family history nazism and the holocaust

Things from the Town 2011-12-15 in this third volume deriving from the 2000 2003 excavations of the viking town of kaupang a range of artefacts is presented along with a discussion of the town s inhabitants their origins activities and trading connections the main categories of artefact are metal jewellery and ornaments gemstones vessel glass pottery finds of soapstone whetstones and textile production equipment the artefacts are described and dated and their areas of origin discussed the volume is lavishly illustrated an exceptional wealth and diversity of artefacts distinguishes sites such as kaupang from all other types of site in the viking world above all they reflect the fact that a large population of some 400 600 people lived closely together in the town engaged in a comprehensive range of production and trade the stratigraphically distinct layers from the first half of the 9th century allow us to put precise dates to the finds and to the buildings and evidence of activities associated with them the finds and structural remains make it possible to identify the activities that took place within the six buildings excavated we can distinguish between some buildings that were only temporarily in use and others that were permanently occupied several of the temporary buildings were used by a variety of craftsmen while those under permanent occupation were houses and only to a secondary degree workshops throughout the life of the town from c ad 800 930 trade links with southern scandinavia the baltic and the irish sea would appear to have been strong in the earliest phases of the town there was considerable trade with the frisian regions probably with dorestad but this link faded markedly in the second half of the 9th century probably because of the abandonment of dorestad within what is now norway kaupang seems to have been supplied with goods from the interior of eastern norway goods from around the western coasts of norway however are practically invisible finds of personal equipment show that the inhabitants of the town were of diverse origins many of them were from southern and western scandinavia but there were also frisians there one house can be identified as that of a frisian household engaged in trade there were also slavs in kaupang although it is not clear whether they were long term residents

Synopsis of Sundry Decisions of the Treasury Department on the Construction of the Tariff, Navigation, and Other Acts, for the Year Ending ... 1903 palaeoentomology represents the interface between two huge scientific disciplines palaeontology the study of fossils and entomology the study of insects however fossils rarely feature extensively in books on insects and likewise insects rarely feature in books about fossils similarly college or university palaeontology courses rarely have an entomological component and entomology courses do not usually consider the fossil record of insects in any detail this is not due to a lack of insect fossils the fossil record of insects is incredibly diverse in terms of taxonomic scope age range devonian to recent mode of preservation amber and rock and geographical distribution fossil insects have been recorded from all continents including antarctica in this book the authors aim to help bridge the palaeontology entomology gap by providing a broadly accessible introduction to some of the best preserved fossil insects from a wide range of deposits from around the globe many of which are beautifully illustrated by colour photographs also covered are insect behaviour and ecology in the fossil record sub fossil insects trace fossils and insect species longevity just as insects are useful as ecological indicators today the same can be expected to be true of the past such applications of the insect fossil record are briefly discussed it is hoped that this book will encourage a few future researchers to enter the fascinating realm of palaeoentomology and to this end there is a section on how to become a palaeoentomologist however it is aimed at a much broader audience those with an interest in fossils and or insects in general who will no doubt marvel at the diversity and excellent preservation of the fossils illustrated

Archaeology Hotspot Italy 2020-03-27 in this unconventional and accessible history italian best seller alberto angela literally follows the money to map the reach and power of the roman empire to see a map of the roman empire at the height of its territorial expansion is to be struck by its size stretching from scotland to kuwait from the sahara to the north sea what was life like in the empire and how were such diverse peoples and places united under one rule the reach of rome explores these questions through an ingenious lens the path of a single coin as it changes hands and traverses the vast realms of the empire in the year 115 admired in his native italy for his ability to bring history to life through narrative alberto angela opens up the ancient world to readers who have felt intimidated by the category or put off by dry historical tomes by focusing on aspects of daily life so often overlooked in more academic treatments the reach of rome travels back in time and shows us a world that was perhaps not very different from our own and by following the path of a coin through the streams of commerce we can touch every corner of that world and its people from legionnaires and senators to prostitutes and slaves through lively and detailed vignettes all based on archeological and historical evidence angela reveals the vast roman world and its remarkable modernity and in so doing he reinforces the relevance of the ancient world for a new generation of readers
