following in the footsteps of boston bohemia 1881 1900 douglass shand tucci s widely praised portrait of ralph adams cram s early years this volume tells the story of cram s later career as one of america s leading cultural figures and most accomplished architects with his partner bertram goodhue cram won a number of important commissions beginning with the west point competition in 1903 although an increasingly bitter rivalry with goodhue would lead to the dissolution of their partnership in 1912 cram had already begun to strike out on his own supervising architect at princeton consulting architect at wellesley and head of the mit school of architecture he would also design most of new york s cathedral of st john the divine and the campus of rice university as well as important church and collegiate structures throughout the country by the 1920s cram had become a household name even appearing on the cover of time magazine a complex man cram was a leading figure in what shand tucci calls a full fledged homosexual monastery in england while at the same time married to elizabeth read their relationship was a complicated one the effect of which on his children and his career is explored fully in this book so too is his work as a religious leader and social theorist shand tucci traces the influence on cram of such disparate figures as franklin delano roosevelt phillips brooks henry adams and ayn rand he divides cram s career into four lifelong quests medieval modernist american and ecumenical some quests may have failed but in each he left a considerable legacy ultimately transforming the visual image of american christianity in the twentieth century handsomely illustrated with over 130 photographs and drawings and eight pages of color plates ralph adams cram can be read on its own or in conjunction with boston bohemia 1881 1900 together the two volumes complete what the christian century has described as a superbly researched and captivating biography
