the story of western literature is the story of two wests the one immediately deeply persuasive the second more complex in its intentions effects this anthology gathered introduced by distinguished western scholar thomas j lyon offers the panoramic literary range of the american west from the romance of the mythic wild west to the present day creative explosion of the real diverse west with more than 40 selections including essays short stories poetry excerpts from novels diaries a complete play this anthology ranges from the early explorers to the greatest 20th century authors the selections lyon gathers here show the region is much more than cowboys scenery in works of western literature ranging from homer s odyssey to albee s who s afraid of virginia woolf the giving and taking of hospitality is sometimes pleasurable but more often perilous heffernan traces this leitmotiv through the history of our greatest writings including christ s last supper macbeth s murder of his royal guest and camus s short story on french colonialism in arab algeria by means of such examples and many more this book considers what literary hosts hostesses and guests do to as well as for each other in doing so it shows how often treachery rends the fabric of trust that hospitality weaves a great deal of stimulating and valuable discussion as well as some indignation and hot air has been stimulated by edward said whose provocative study of orientalism western conceptions of the orient appeared twenty years ago this present book will we believe be recognized as a worthy addition to the many attempts that have since been made to sift the intrinsic and ingrained attitudes of west to east the fifteen articles in oriental prospects western literature and the lure of the east cover literature from the renaissance through the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to the modern period some in pragmatic accounts of responses to and uses of experiences of the orient and its cultural attitudes and artefacts others contending more theoretically with issues that edward said has raised despite all the misunderstanding prejudice and propaganda in the scholarly and literary depiction of the orient still today as in the past what emerges from this wide range of articles is that no species of literary text or academic study can appear without risking the accusation of escapist exoticism or cultural and economic exploitation and thus regrettably masking the essential and vital significance of the political and the real and imaginative trading between east and west a thematically arranged anthology of poems short stories plays and novellas from western literature for the twelfth grade reader the american west is a complex region that has inspired generations of writers and artists often portrayed as a quintessential landscape that symbolizes promise and progress for a developing nation the american west is also a diverse space that has experienced conflicting and competing hopes and expectations while it is frequently imagined as a place enabling dreams of new beginnings for settler communities it is likewise home to longstanding indigenous populations as well as many other ethnic and racial groups who have often produced different visions of the land this history encompasses the intricacy of western american literature by exploring myriad genres and cultural movements from ecocriticism settler colonial studies and transnational theory to race ethnic gender and sexuality studies written by a host of leading historians and literary critics this book offers readers insight into the west as a site that sustains canonical and emerging authors alike and as a region that exceeds national boundaries in addressing long standing global concerns and developments this is a new release of the original 1949 edition literature as document considers the relationship between documents and literary texts in western literature of the 1930s and attempts to provide answers to the problematic nature of that relationship the recentness of most listings in this bibliography illustrates the growing interest in western literature in the last decades a thematically arranged anthology of poems short stories plays and novellas from western literature for the twelfth grade reader given in honor of district governor hugh summers and mrs ahnise summers by the rotary club of aggieland with matching support from the sara and john h lindsey 44 fund texas a m university press 2004 mark scarbrough has been searching for something his entire life whether it s his birth mother true love his purpose or his sexual identity mark has been on a constant quest to find out who he really is with the great western texts as his steadfast companions as a boy with his head constantly in a book desperate to discover new worlds he can hardly distinguish between their plots and his own reality the child of strict texan evangelicals mark is taught by the bible to fervently believe in the rapture and second coming and is thus moved to spend his teen years as a youth preacher in cowboy boots at college he discovers william blake who teaches him to fall in love with poems lyrics and his roommate alex raised to believe that to be gay was to be a sinner mark is driven to the brink of madness and attempts suicide hoping to avoid books once and for all mark joins the seminary where he meets his wife miranda neither the seminary nor the marriage stick and mark once again finds himself turning to his books for the sense of belonging the
