Hawk Flights 1888-01-01 one of 2015 s books of the year in the times and the mail on sunday a hard hitting passionate and well researched book about the conflict between driven grouse shooting and nature conservation in britain with a foreword by chris packham driven grouse shooting where flocks of red grouse are chased by lines of beaters so that they fly over lines of guns that shoot the fast flying birds is a peculiarly british fieldsport it is also peculiarly british in that it is deeply rooted in the british class system this multi million pound business dominates the hills of the north of england the pennines the north yorkshire moors the cheviots and throughout scotland grouse shooting is big business very big business and backed by powerful wealthy lobbying groups its tendrils run throughout british society inglorious makes the case for banning driven grouse shooting the facts and arguments are presented fairly but the author mark avery states from the start why he has after many years of soul searching come down in favour of an outright ban there is too much illegal killing of wildlife such as buzzards golden eagles and most egregiously of all hen harriers and as a land use it wrecks the ecology of the hills however grouse shooting is economically important and it is a great british tradition all of these and other points of view are given fair and detailed treatment and analysis and the author talks to a range of people on different sides of the debate the book also sets out avery s campaign with chris packham to gain support for the proposal to ban grouse shooting culminating in hen harrier day timed to coincide with the glorious 12th this new paperback edition includes new material on what went on in 2015 including the devastating floods of that winter bringing the story right up to date mark avery continues to stir up a debate about fieldsports the countryside and big business in a book that all british conservationists will want to read

□□□□□□□□□□ F-22□□□-□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□ 1993 there is a common but often unspoken arrogance on the part of outside observers that folk science and traditional knowledge the type developed by native communities and tribal groups is inferior to the formal science practiced by westerners in this lucidly written and humanistic account of the o odham tribes of arizona and northwest mexico ethnobiologist amadeo m rea exposes the limitations of this assumption by exploring the rich ornithology that these tribes have generated about the birds that are native to their region he shows how these peoples observational knowledge provides insights into the behaviors mating habits migratory patterns and distribution of local bird species and he uncovers the various ways that this knowledge is incorporated into the communities traditions and esoteric belief systems drawing on more than four decades of field and textual research along with hundreds of interviews with tribe members rea identifies how birds are incorporated both symbolically and practically into Pima legends, songs, art, religion, and ceremonies through highly detailed descriptions and accounts loaded with native voice. This book is the definitive study of folk ornithology; it also provides valuable data for scholars of linguistics and North American Native Studies and it makes a significant contribution to our understanding of how humans make sense of their world. It will be of interest to historians of science, anthropologists, and scholars of indigenous cultures and folk taxonomy.

Grapevine Canyon Wind Project 2010-11-11
Maury Maverick was possibly the first liberal United States congressman from Texas to achieve national and even international stature. A dedicated democrat, he was ready to attack Franklin D. Roosevelt whenever he felt that Roosevelt was flagging in his enthusiasm for reform. He was honest to the point of rudeness and he belonged to the damn the torpedoes class that pulled ahead regardless of political consequences. He was at home with the literate; he was a prodigious writer and speaker but always ready to puncture their pretensions and he could cuss with sailors, pecan shellers, and any breed of saloon keeper. Put all that together with a short, stocky bulldog frame, a fierce face, and a voice to match, and you have one of the nation's more colorful political figures.
