a wide ranging consideration of early modern muslim and christian empires covering the iberian ottoman and mughal worlds including questions of political economy images and representations and historiography empires between islam and christianity 1500 1800 uses the innovative approach of connected histories to address a series of questions regarding the early modern world in the indian ocean the mediterranean and the atlantic the period between 1500 and 1800 was one of intense inter imperial competition involving the iberians the ottomans the mughals the british and other actors rather than understand these imperial entities separately sanjay subrahmanyam reads their archives and texts together to show unexpected connections and refractions he further proposes in this set of closely argued studies that these empires often borrowed from each other or built their projects with knowledge of other competing visions of empire the emphasis on connections is also crucial for an understanding of how a variety of genres of imperial and global history writing developed in the early modern world the book moves creatively between political economic intellectual and cultural themes to suggest a fresh geographical conception for the epoch sanjay subrahmanyam is distinguished professor and irving and jean stone chair in the department of history at the university of california los angeles he is the author of several books including the political economy of commerce southern india 1500 1650
