no formal training in the area growing up in singapore in the 80s has been challenging i didn t know much about life or economy i didn t know what i want to do apart from playing i know i had to study and get a job in school we had to write composition about our profession when we grow up i had never wanted to be a philosopher let alone writing about social philosophy it is just that growing up with a single parent is tough it is tougher when she is uneducated and i had to learn most things by myself after my national service i decided to further studies that was when i was exposed to philosophy and psychology in the uk after graduation in 1999 with a degree in electronics i came back home to resume my national service i disrupt it and had about 2 months left the life in uk exposed me to something that i did not notice when growing up in singapore i find local social scene unsatisfactory they are confucians muslims christians freethinkers and humanists most time they are preoccupied with how to earn more money religion does not give me the fulfillment that it promised in addition most were based on singaporeans interpretation of the bible and buddhism s dharma most times i feel that everything that singaporeans do has got to do with wealth creation or at least with the expenditure of it it end up like what pope francis referred to as the cult of money organised religion involves more fear mongering than cultivating an inner grace and peace hence this book is about how i relate an ancient thinker s ethics aristotle to the present day i find aristotle s ethics to most suit my needs as a man and lover it does not pretend to be more than what it seek the golden mean it does require us to think and explore the values to find balance and achieve wisdom with intellectual and moral virtues i also find other philosophers french or not particularly insightful and thought provoking they offer me explanation and exploration on subjects like love sex and death freudian psychoanalysis are also very penetrating in their findings and insights moreover i needed some contemporary psychological theory not in depth psychoanalysis to back aristotle s model of ethics intellectual and moral virtues hence the psychological background of my book i got acquainted with these psychological theories when i was preparing myself to be a financial consultant i later found out more about them and they became useful in my work and life hence i would like to share it with people in asia so that they can ask the right kind of questions in life in order to learn more about themselves and the social milieu they are living in because everyone of us are affected by the social sciences politics economics and sociology this book will i hope allow us to understand why we are irrational and how we can make rational changes through reasonings in their life and achieving eudaimonia my wish is simply to share what i enjoy doing apart from creating useful ideas to improve the world through my book i hope to make others understand religion science and philosophy and how they play an increasingly integral part in the asian century the aims of this second edition are to make available all the research reported by isabel briggs myers in the first edition myers 1962 to clarify points that have been frequently misunderstood to describe more specifically how to interpret the mbti and to add new data from research since the first edition published in 1987 handbook of measurements for marriage and family therapy is a valuable contribution to the field of family therapy the purpose of this handbook is to provide a single convenient source to which practitioners researchers and trainees can turn in order to learn how to use marriage and family instruments and to find descriptions of instruments suited to their needs here is an often cited panoramic history of the telegraph which discusses the principal telegraph firms and the key persons within them throughout his work reid stresses the business and economic aspects of marketing this remarkable scientific invention the importance of the telegraph in america as a classic reference in the field is under scored by the fact that the author was active in telegraphy throughout the period he discusses he thus had a personal knowledge of persons and events under examination op onderwerp zijn de diverse gidsen en handleidingen gerangschikt throughout the world as in the united states psychologists are increasingly being called upon to evaluate clients whose backgrounds differ from their own it has long been recognized that standard personality and psychopathology assessment instruments carry cultural biases and in recent years efforts to correct these biases have accelerated the handbook of cross cultural and multicultural personality assessment brings together researchers and practitioners from 12 countries with diverse ethnic and racial identities and training to present state of the art knowledge about how best to minimize cultural biases in the assessment of personality and psychopathology they consider research methodology the design and construction of standard objective and projective tests the use of measures of acculturation racial identity and culture specific tests the social etiquette of service delivery and the interpretation of test data for clinical diagnosis ranging widely through all the relevant issues they share a common collective vision of how culturally competent services should be delivered to clients the handbook offers the first comprehensive view of a consistent approach to cultural competence in assessment a necessary precursor of effective intervention it will become an indispensable reference for all those whose practice or research involves individuals with different ethnic and racial identities
