□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□ 2013 this volume is a result of four days in july 2005 where historians health economists medical doctors and nurses anthropologists writers sociologists and many more travelled to oxford england for the fourth annual making sense of health illness and disease conference organised by inter disciplinary net

Illness, Bodies and Contexts: Interdisciplinary Perspectives 2020-05-18 pliny s naturalis historia is a sophisticated encyclopaedia of the riches of the ancient world the contributors to the present volume represent and join a new generation of critics who have begun to examine the dominant motifs which give shape to the work

Pliny the Elder: Themes and Contexts 2011-04-11 today it has been said the world is flat as online media allow information to move easily from point to point across the earth international legal differences however are increasingly affecting the ease with which data and ideas can be shared across nations copyright law for example affects the international flow of materials by stipulating who has the right to replicate or to share certain kinds of content similarly perspectives on privacy rights can differ from nation to nation and affect how personal information is shared globally moreover national laws can affect the exchange of ideas by stipulating the language in which information must be presented in different geopolitical regions today s technical communicators need to understand how legal factors can affect communication practices if they wish to work effectively in global contexts this collection provides an overview of different legal aspects that technical communicators might encounter when creating materials or sharing information in international environments through addressing topics ranging from privacy rights and information exchange to the legalities of business practices in virtual worlds and perspectives on authorship and ownership the contributors to this volume examine a variety of communication based legal issues that can cause problems or miscommunication in international interactions reviewing such topics from different perspectives the authors collectively provide ideas that could serve as a foundation for creating best practices on or for engaging in future research in the area of legal issues in international settings

Legal Issues in Global Contexts 2016-12-05 this volume extends the task based language teaching issues research and practice books series by deliberately exploring the potential of task based language teaching tbtl in a range of efl contexts it is specifically devoted to providing empirical accounts about how tbtl practice is being developed and researched in diverse educational contexts particularly where english is not the dominant language by including contributions from settings as varied as japan china korea venezuela turkey spain and france this collection of 13 studies provides strong indications that the research and implementation of tbtl in efl settings is both on the rise and interestingly diverse not least because it must respond to the distinct contexts constraints and possibilities of foreign language learning the book will be of interest to sla researchers and students in applied linguistics and tesol it will also be of value to course designers and language teachers who come from a broad range of formal and informal educational settings encompassing a wide range of ages and types of language learners

Task-Based Language Teaching in Foreign Language Contexts 2012 this book sets out a contemporary perspective on music education highlighting complex intersections between informal non formal and formal practices and contexts at a time when the boundaries between music learning and participation are increasingly blurred this volume is distinctive in challenging a siloed approach to understanding the diverse international music education landscape instead the book proposes a multi layered continuum of practices that can be applied across a range of formal informal or non formal concepts to support the development of musical possible selves it challenges existing conceptions of learning in music education in part by drawing on research in adult learning but also by considering the contexts in which learning takes place and the extent to which this learning can be classified as formal informal or non formal

2020-07-27 an enduring educational concern that has plagued researchers and policy makers in a number of affluent countries is the endemic nature of educational inequalities these inequalities highlight distinct differences in the educational skills knowledge capabilities and credentials between learners demographic characteristics they also point to issues of educational disadvantage that emanate from a combination of factors including family life communities the geographies of space and place gender and ethnicity this book examines some of the causes and responses to educational inequalities and focuses upon poor urban contexts where educational disadvantage is at its most concentrated and where educational policy and practice has over time proliferated it questions how wider inequities experienced by young people in urban contexts generate educational inequalities and disadvantage detailing explicitly what an equitable approach to education might look like included in the book is an innovative educational equity framework and toolkit with illustrative policy and practice case studies bringing together unique scholarship and analysis to examine future educational policy in a holistic comprehensive and equitable way it will be valuable reading for postgraduate students researchers and policy makers with an interest in education and educational equity

2013-12-17 while research into intercultural teaching has grown exponentially during the past two decades the research has primarily resorted to the use of quantitative data collection instruments and the interpretation of scores calculated through them as such studies in the field can seem somewhat decontextualized ignoring in some cases setting specific parameters therefore further study is needed to bring together theory research and practice demonstrating how this teaching is reflected in research design and how it is undertaken in different settings intercultural foreign language teaching and learning in higher education contexts is an essential reference source that provides a series of rich insights into the way intercultural education is practiced in numerous international contexts and showcases practical examples of teaching situations and classroom activities that demonstrate its impact within the classroom featuring research on topics such as higher education multilingualism and professionalism this book is ideally designed for educators researchers administrators professionals academicians and students seeking pedagogical guidance on intercultural teaching

Intercultural Foreign Language Teaching and Learning in Higher Education Contexts 2019-02-01 two commissions within the public relations society of america have recently defined courses in case study analysis research methods and behavioral science theory as central to an acceptable public relations curriculum to date these three streams within pr education have run independently of each other the authors produced this volume because they believe that there is a growing demand for an integrative applied theory approach to the study of public relations cases the need for pr professionals to study the social political and economic contexts of public relations carefully had been apparent for some time as issues management and environment scanning emerged as focal points of modern public relations yet there was no systematic framework for such study this volume however with its strong foundation in theory provides just that framework and is highly suitable for graduate level courses in public relations

quality of life have been conducted in western contexts and are based on western participants comparatively speaking there are only a few studies that have been conducted in different chinese contexts also there are fewer qol studies based on children and adolescents or studies that examine the relationship between qol and economic disadvantage in addition more research is needed to address the methodological issues related to the assessment of quality of life this volume is a constructive response to the challenges described above it is the first book to cover research in chinese western and global contexts in a single volume it is a ground breaking volume in which chinese studies on the quality of life are collected the book includes papers addressing family qol quality of life in adolescents experiencing economic disadvantage and methodological issues in the assessment of qol it is written by researchers working in a variety of disciplines

Quality-of-Life Research in Chinese, Western and Global Contexts 2006-03-30 recent publications on urbanism and the rural environment in late antiquity most of which explore a single region or narrow chronological niche have emphasized either textual or archeological evidence none has attempted the more ambitious task of bringing together the full range of such evidence within a multiregional perspective and around common themes urban centers and rural contexts seeks to redress this omission while ancient literature and the physical remains of cities attest to the power that urban values held over the lives of their inhabitants the rural areas in which the majority of imperial citizens lived have not been well served by the historical record only recently have archeological excavations and integrated field surveys sufficiently enhanced our knowledge of the rural contexts to demonstrate the continuing interdependence of urban centers and rural communities in late antiquity these new data call into question the conventional view that this interdependence progressively declined as a result of governmental crises invasions economic dislocation and the success of christianization the essays in this volume require us to abandon the search for a single model of urban and rural change to reevaluate the cities and towns of the empire as centers of habitation rather than archeological museums and to reconsider the evidence of continuous and pervasive cultural change across the countryside deploying a wide range of material as well as literary evidence the authors provide access not only into the world of élites but also to the scarcely known lives of those without a voice in the literature those men and women who worked in the shops labored in the fields and humbled themselves before their gods they bring us closer to the complexity of life in late ancient communities and in consequence closer to both urban and rural citizens

Consultation Across Cultural Contexts 2015-11-06 many preachers and teachers of preaching talk about the gospel few name it theologies of the gospel in context assembles a gifted group of homileticians who think that preachers need to be able to articulate the gospel not in general but in a certain time and place in context they consider what gospel sounds like for people under oppression in capitalist economies in neocolonial contexts for survivors of trauma and for disestablished mainline churches marred by racism preachers will appreciate these preacher scholars desire to articulate the gospel with clarity especially since the term is so often left unexplained homileticians will see a new genre of doing their work as teachers and researchers in preaching a vision that helps preaching see itself not just as an adjunct to exegesis or communication but a place of doing theology in these pages homiletics is more than technique it is a truly theological discipline

1997-06-12 moving away from criminal behaviour can be fraught with difficulties often it can involve leaving behind old habits customs and even friends while at the same time adopting a new way of life how do individuals go about making a decision to give up crime how do they plan to sustain this decision and in what ways does probation help this book explores these questions based on in depth interviews with a group of men under probation supervision sam king investigates the factors associated with making a decision to desist from crime the book examines strategies for desistance and explores the factors that individuals consider when they are thinking about how they will desist in doing so the book sheds new light on existing understandings of desistance from crime and helps to develop our understandings of the role that individuals play in constructing their own desistance journeys this book also highlights the role of probation in this process offering a timely and critical review of the nature of probation under the new labour government in the uk between 1997 2010 the findings indicate that we should allow probation officers greater autonomy and discretion within their roles and that we should free them from the bureaucracy of risk assessment and targets moreover the book warns against the potential fragmentation of community supervision as such the book will be of interest to criminology students researchers academics policymakers and practitioners particularly those who work with ex offenders in the community

British Museum 1883 the past two decades have seen an outpouring of work in legal theory that is self consciously critical of aspects of american law and the institutions of the liberal state in this lively volume eminent scholars in philosophy law and political science respond to this recent scholarship by exploring what constitutes a radical critique of the law examining such theories as critical legal studies feminist theory and theories of difference and critical race theory the authors consider whether the critiques advanced in recent legal theory can truly be called radical and what form a radical critique of american law should take writing at the cutting edge of the critique of critical legal theory they offer insights first on critical legal scholarship then on feminist political and legal theory a third group of contributions questions the radicalness of these approaches in light of their failure to challenge fundamental aspects of liberalism while a final section focuses on current issues of legal reform through critical views on criminal punishment including observations on rape and hate speech each major essay describes the underlying principles in the development of a radical legal theory and addresses unresolved questions relating to it while accompanying commentaries present conflicting views the resulting dialogue explores wide ranging issues like equity value relativism adversarial and empathic legal advocacy communitarianism and the social contract impartiality and contingency natural law and corrective justice a common thread for many of the articles is a focus on the social dimension of society and law which finds the individualism of prevailing liberal theories too limiting radical critiques of the law is particularly unique in presenting critical and feminist approaches in one volume along with skeptical commentary about just how radical some critiques really are proposing alternative critiques that embody considerably greater promise of being truly radical it offers provocative reading for both philosophers and legal scholars by showing that many claims to radicalism are highly problematic at best

Entrepreneurship and Context 2019 in the last thirty years the usa and the uk have witnessed a profound change in the way in which we think about and respond to crime and social control crime has become part of everyday life as for many citizens has imprisonment managing modernity brings together criminologists social theorists and philosophers to consider what explains these changes and what they tell us about ourselves and the way in which we live the authors consider the pervasive the obvious and the covert ways in which crime and social order have come to structure social discourses and social life from mass imprisonment to zero tolerance to on the spot fines this volume was previously published as a special issue of the critical review of international social and political philosophy crispp

Radical Critiques of the Law 1997 i exposes how ex gay and postabortion ministries operate on a shared system of thought and analyzes their social implications i br br a staple of the culture wars the struggle between christian conservatives and progressives over sexuality and reproductive rights continues focusing on ex gay ministries geared to helping same sex attracted people resist their sexuality and postabortion ministries dedicated to leading women who have had an abortion to repent that decision cynthia burack argues that both are motivated and characterized by a strain of compassion that is particular to christian conservatism rather than a bias and hatred toward sexual minorities and sexually active women this compassion reproduces the sexual ideology of the christian right and absolves christian conservatives from responsibility for stigma and other forms of harm to postabortive and same sex attracted people using the democratic theory of hannah arendt the popular fiction of ayn rand and the psychoanalytic thought of melanie klein burack studies the social and political effects of christian conservative compassion investigates for the first time how cesl and dcfr rules would interact with various aspects of domestic law represented by english and german law nineteen chapters co authored by british and german scholars examine such interface issues for eg pre contractual relationships notions of contract formation interpretation and remedies extending to non discrimination third parties transfers or rights aspects of property law and collective proceedings they go beyond a critical analysis of cesl and dcfr rules by demonstrating where and how cesl rules would interact with neighbouring areas of english and german law before english and german courts how domestic traditions might influence the application which aspects might motivate sellers and buyers to choose or reject cesl and which might serve as model for national legislators the findings are summarized in the final two chapters

National Science and Technology Strategies in a Global Context 1998-05-21 students of the bible are generally comfortable with their understanding of the command

make disciples matt 28 19 indeed most of them would argue that the gospel writer matthew spells out very clearly the meaning of the term in the great commission matt 28 16 20 by utilizing three key words viz go ing baptizing and teaching this point of view is the result of centuries of scholarly opinion that has looked primarily if not solely to these three adjacent participles of make disciples matt 28 19 and not to the entire gospel of matthew for the meaning of the command

this book does not suggest that going baptizing and teaching are not to be considered in determining the essence of christian disciple making rather it contends that the three terms should not be our only source of meaning this problem is tackled herein by demonstrating that matthew establishes a framework within the great commission itself that points to a fuller meaning of make disciples in the broader context of his gospel and that the gospel writer expects his reader to draw on his entire gospel to grasp the full meaning of this important command
