Agricultural Transformation Centres in Africa - Practical guidance to promote inclusive agro-industrial development 2019-03-14 over the next ten years the african rural space will be the theatre of profound changes as the activities envisaged for agricultural transformation are drastically scaled up increased food demand and changing consumption habits driven by demographic factors such as population growth and urbanization are already leading to a rapid increase of net food imports opening a huge opportunity for the agribusiness sector of many african countries against this backdrop and in line with its mission to spur sustainable economic development and social progress the african development bank afdb in 2016 launched feed africa a strategy that is intended to contribute substantially to the transformation of african agriculture by 2025 and to reverse africa s dependence on imported foods as part of this strategy afdb is promoting the concept of staple crops processing zones scpzs which are agrobased spatial development initiatives designed to concentrate agro processing activities within areas of high agricultural potential to boost productivity and integrate the production processing and marketing of selected commodities as essential components scpzs include an agro processing hub a number of agricultural transformation centres atcs and agricultural production areas the atcs are designed to link smallholder farmers to the agro processing hub and are strategically located in high production areas with the aim of serving as aggregation points to accumulate products from the community to supply the hub for further value addition or to send them to centres of great demand for distribution and retail to consumers this study has attempted to assess the feasibility and applicability of the atc concept to selected regions in zambia côte d ivoire and the united republic of tanzania findings from the field have demonstrated the potential of atcs to address community needs and constraints for a range of selected value chains and have helped to identify different atc models that could work in each specific context

Kenya's and Zambia's Relations with China 1949-2019 2023-01-17 examines the history of post colonial kenya s and zambia s relations with the people s republic of china from ideological political economic and social perspectives africa has become a major platform from which to analyse and understand china s growing influence in the global south yet the impact of their historical relationship has been largely overlooked through the triangulation of the global cold war african history and chinese history this study provides a detailed analysis of china africa relations in the second half of the 20th century examining the encounters conflicts and dynamics of china kenya zambia relations from the 1950s until the present as well as the basis on which historical narratives have been constructed the book presents two contrasting state perspectives underlining the concept of african agency driven by a class based analysis of world revolution communist china s foreign policy did not distinguish significantly between kenya and zambia both countries sought ideological and material support from china in the years after their independence the kenya african national union under both jomo kenyatta and daniel moi pursued a consistently pragmatic foreign agenda and despite political tensions and ideological rifts with china since the mid 1960s sino kenyan trade has continued to grow steadily in contrast china zambia relations under kenneth kaunda were cordial despite their political differences zambian leaders maintained a relatively high consensus that any alleged chinese communist threat would not be allowed to fuel power struggles within their united national independence party challenging both the widely accepted role of china africa s historical lineage as well as the tendency to assume uniformity in china s relationships across the continent the author explains the development of these relationships and sheds light on the historical underpinnings or lack thereof on contemporary china africa relations

Sexual Reformation? 2022-02-28 inasmuch as sex and sexuality are not words often spoken from pulpits and in academic theological circles a vast number of utterances have been made in the name of so called christian values and biblical views on sex and sexuality these are often given from moral ethical perspectives and seemingly very prescriptive who should have sex with whom when sex should take place which purposes sex should serve and especially when sex is wrong moreover often there is little or no recognition of the complexities surrounding human sexuality resulting in what appears to be a blueprint for sexuality applicable to all persons this volume contains fourteen theological and ethical reflections by south african scholars on human sexuality with the aim of exploring what a sexual reformation within christian dialogue might entail presented in three sections namely systematic theological reflections biblical reflections and ethical reflections the essays represent a range of topics from a variety of perspectives luther and marriage sexual abuse in the catholic church body theology and the sexual revolution reproductive technologies sexuality and reproduction reproductive loss hermeneutical choices and gender reformation in south africa queer engagements with bra joseph explorations on paul and sex rape culture and violent deities the church's moral authority and sexual ethics practical theological considerations regarding infertility empirical research on masculinities in zambia and the lived experience of transgender people in african independent churches
