Ethnography Unbound 1991-11-18 the rationale for the present text hollywood or history an inquiry based strategy for using film to teach about inequality and inequity throughout history stems from two main things first and foremost is the fact that the reviews of the first two volumes in the hollywood or history series have been overwhelmingly positive especially as it pertains to the application of the strategy for practitioners classroom utility and teacher practice have continued to be the primary objectives in developing the hollywood or history strategy the second thing is that this most recent volume in the series takes it in a new direction rather than focusing on eras in history it focuses on the themes of inequity and inequality throughout history and how teachers can utilize the hollywood or history strategy to tackle some of the more complicated content throughout history that many teachers tend to shy away from there is a firm belief that students connection to film along with teachers ability to use film in an effective manner will help alleviate some of the challenges of teaching challenging topics such as inequity and inequality in terms of gender race socioeconomic status and so much more the book provides 30 secondary lesson plans grades 6 12 that address nine different topics centered around inequity and inequality throughout history many of which connect students to the world we are living in today the intended audience for the book are teachers who teach social studies at the 6th 12th grade level both in the united states and other countries an additional audience will be college and university social studies history methods professors in the united states and worldwide

The American Journey 2003 the challenges of teaching history are acute where we consider the world history classroom generalized world history courses are a part of many if not most k 12 curricular frameworks in the united states while united states history tends to dominate the scholarship and conversation there are an equally wide number of middle level and secondary students and teachers engaged in the study of world history in our public schools and the challenges are real in the first place if we are to mark content coverage as a curricular obstacle in the history classroom generally then we must underscore that concern in the world history classroom and for obvious reasons the curricular terrain to choose from is immense and forever expanding dealing with the development of numerous civilizations over millennia and across a wide geographic expanse in addition to curricular concerns world historical topics are inherently farther away from most students lives not just temporally but often geographically and culturally thus the rationale for the present text hollywood or history an inquiry based strategy for using film to teach world history the reviews of the first volume hollywood or history an inquiry based strategy for using film to teach united states history strategy have been overwhelmingly positive especially as it pertains to the application of the strategy for practitioner classroom utility and teacher practice have remained our primary objectives in developing the hollywood or history strategy and we are encouraged by the possibilities of volume ii and the capacity of this most recent text to impact teaching and learning in world history we believe that students connection to film along with teachers ability to use film in an effective manner will help alleviate some of the challenges of teaching world history the book provides 30 secondary lesson plans grades 6 12 that address nine eras in world history
