this book provides an introduction to a rapidly growing area in the social and behavioral sciences the modeling of systems in which one or more variables are hypothesized but not directly observed providing a conceptually unified treatment of modeling of this type exploratory and confirmatory factor analysis path analysis and structural equation analysis it is intended to introduce these techniques to individuals who have had some exposure to statistical methods in general but are beginners in this particular area using an inductive and informal approach it emphasizes the use of path diagrams and a variety of concrete examples and keeps the mathematics largely intuitive examples are drawn from a variety of fields including psychometrics sociology psychology education and behavior genetics although some introductory material is provided for lisrel eqs and calis and for exploratory factor analysis programs in sas spss and bmpd the book is not closely tied to any one computer program or statistical package

a discussion of recent numerical and algorithmic tools for the solution of certain flow problems arising in cfd which are governed by the incompressible navier stokes equations the book contains the latest results for the numerical solution of complex flow problems on modern computer platforms with particular emphasis on the solution process of the resulting high dimensional discrete systems of equations which is often neglected in other works together with the accompanying cd rom containing the complete featflow 1 1 software and parts of the virtual album of fluid motion readers are able to perform their own numerical simulations and will find numerous suggestions for improving their own computational simulations
