Social cohesion in Gauteng 2019-03-14 increasing attacks on foreigners including in april 2015 along with a succession of widely publicised incidents of racism have triggered a new round of soul searching in south africa why after the comprehensive defeat of apartheid and its ideology does prejudice seem so intractable what kinds of interventions could help reduce these troubling events how can society be made more cohesive suggestions about what to do in the face of these challenges are sometimes speculative and wishful they consist of appeals to the better nature of ordinary people or an assumption that the feel good moments of the democratic transition can be re enacted to bind everyone together calls for social cohesion and tolerance seem often to dodge the complex vicious cycles that lead to the instances of intolerance that erupt in the media or in communities this research report centres on better understanding the current dynamics of social cohesion in gauteng it tackles five guiding questions each of which corresponds to a chapter 1 how has social cohesion become a goal in post apartheid south africa and what are the key limitations resulting from this understanding of social progress 2 in a global context how is social cohesion defined and what are the main contestations about this ideal of social change 3 how do the respondents in the gcro s quality of life iv 2015 16 survey respond to questions on levels of trust claims to belonging by different race groups and the place of migrants and gays and lesbians in gauteng 4 how have past and present initiatives to improve social cohesion conceived of the problem they are attempting to address and what is their scale of intervention 5 what are the various methodologies that have been used in past and present initiatives to improve social cohesion a key premise of this research was that our society has an enormous accumulation of experience in trying to tackle anti social interactions and to address social injustices that are in various ways shaped by race class nationality gender sexuality and other identities the last two chapters of this report are based on a review of more than 60 social cohesion initiatives they analyse the wide variety of actors involved in such work the different ways in which they conceive of their objectives and the different scales at which they operate these actors pursue dozens of different methodologies including sports and dialogue arts psychology urban design and public campaigns this dispersed capacity through society is important because it represents experience based responses to the ways in which anti social behaviour and social injustice are reproduced in attempting to determine a programme of action we argue that we should learn from and extend existing and past attempts to tackle these difficulties

The Changing Space Economy of City-Regions 2017-10-30 this book addresses the south african space economy and its stark disparities and dualisms through an assessment of the gauteng city region the largest economic agglomeration in the country and on a continent bedevilled by a myriad of development challenges the book s focus on understanding the overall character of gauteng city region s space economy through data mining analysis and mapping comprehensively supplements the space economy literature on the region it covers the disparities exacerbated by an overlay of apartheid planning ideology and top down regional development based on selective encouragement of manufacturing investments in growth points or poles and how implementation of past policies intended to cure these disparities have yielded mixed results this book further offers the gauteng city region as a microcosm of the national economy in the form of evident significant placed based variations in the intensity and character of economic structure that on the one hand enjoys massive agglomeration economies while on the other has high levels of poverty and large numbers of people living below the minimum living level this book should appeal to urban studies specialists economists and development studies researchers in the global south

The Anatomy of Inclusive Cities 2023-04-27 creating cities inclusive of immigrants in southern africa is both a balancing act and a protracted process that requires positive attitudes informed by accommodative institutional frameworks this book revolves around two key contemporary issues that cities around the globe are trying to achieve viz the need to build inclusive cities and the need to accommodate immigrants the search for building inclusive cities is an on going challenge which most cities are grappling with this challenge is complicated by the need to include immigrants who are always side lined by policies of host countries this book discusses the host immigrant interface by providing a detailed insight of anchors of inclusive cities and a holistic picture of who immigrants are these are then discussed contextually within the southern african region where insight into selected cities is provided to some depth using empirical evidence the discussion on inclusive cities and immigrants is a universal narrative targeting practitioners and students in town and regional planning urban studies urban politics migration and international relations the southern african region once more provides an opportunity to further interrogate and understand the dynamics of immigration in selected cities this book will also be of interest to policy makers dealing with
