Global Change and River Ecosystems - Implications for Structure, Function and Ecosystem Services 2015-03-21 rivers around the world are threatened by changes in land use climate hydrologic cycles and biodiversity global changes in rivers include but are not restricted to water flow interruptions temperature increases loss of hydrological connectivity altered water residence times changes in nutrient loads increasing arrival of new chemicals simplification of the physical structure of the systems occurrence of invasive species and biodiversity losses all of them affect the structure and functioning of the river ecosystem and thereby their ecosystem services understanding the responses of river ecosystems and their services to global change is essential for protecting human well being in all corners of the planet rivers provide critical benefits by providing food from fisheries and irrigation regulating biogeochemical balances and enriching our aesthetic and cultural experience predicting responses of rivers to global change is challenged by the complexity of interactions among these man made drivers across a mosaic of natural hydrogeomorphic and climatic settings this book explores the broad range of determinants defining global change and their effects on river ecosystems authors have provided thoughtful and insightful treatments of specific topics that relate to the broader theme of global change regulation of river ecosystems

Applications of Small Unmanned Aircraft Systems 2019-10-18 advances in high spatial resolution mapping capabilities and the new rules established by the federal aviation administration in the united states for the operation of small unmanned aircraft systems suas have provided new opportunities to acquire aerial data at a lower cost and more safely versus other methods a similar opening of the skies for suas applications is being allowed in countries across the world also suas can access hazardous or inaccessible areas during disaster events and provide rapid response when needed applications of small unmanned aircraft systems best practices and case studies is the first book that brings together the best practices of suas applied to a broad range of issues in high spatial resolution mapping projects very few suas pilots have the knowledge of how the collected imagery is processed into value added mapping products that have commercial and or academic import since the field of suas applications is just a few years old this book covers the need for a compendium of case studies to guide the planning data collection and most importantly data processing and map error issues with the range of sensors available to the user community written by experienced academics and professionals this book serves as a guide on how to formulate suas based projects from choice of a suas flight planning for a particular application sensors and data acquisition data processing software mapping software and use of the high spatial resolution maps produced for particular types of geospatial modeling features focus on suas based data acquisition and processing into map products broad range of case studies by highly experienced academics practical guidance on suas hardware sensors and software utilized compilation of workflow insights from expert professors and professionals relevant to academia government and industry positional and thematic map accuracy uas curriculum development and workflow replicability issues this book would be an excellent text for upper level undergraduate to graduate level suas mapping application courses it is also invaluable as a reference for educators designing suas based curriculum as well as for potential suas users to assess the scope of mapping projects that can be done with this technology

The Future of Atmospheric Chemistry Research 2017-01-29 our world is changing at an accelerating rate the global human population has grown from 6 1 billion to 7 1 billion in the last 15 years and is projected to reach 11 2 billion by the end of the century the distribution of humans across the globe has also shifted with more than 50 percent of the global population now living in urban areas compared to 29 percent in 1950 along with these trends increasing energy demands expanding industrial activities and intensification of agricultural activities worldwide have in turn led to changes in emissions that have altered the composition of the atmosphere these changes have led to major challenges for society including deleterious impacts on climate human and ecosystem health climate change is one of the greatest environmental challenges facing society today air pollution is a major threat to human health as one out of eight deaths globally is caused by air pollution and future food production and global food security are vulnerable to both global change and air pollution atmospheric chemistry research is a key part of understanding and responding to these challenges the future of atmospheric chemistry research remembering yesterday understanding today anticipating tomorrow summarizes the rationale and need for supporting a comprehensive u s research program in atmospheric chemistry comments on the broad trends in laboratory field satellite and modeling studies of atmospheric chemistry determines the priority areas of research for advancing the basic science of atmospheric chemistry and identifies the highest priority needs for improvements in the research infrastructure to address those priority research topics this report describes the scientific advances over the past decade in six core areas of atmospheric chemistry emissions chemical transformation oxidants atmospheric dynamics and circulation aerosol particles and clouds and biogeochemical cycles and deposition this material was developed for the nsf s atmospheric chemistry program however the findings will be of interest to other agencies and programs that support atmospheric chemistry research

From the Ground Up 2022-01-11 in from the ground up local efforts to create resilient cities design expert alison sant focuses on the unique ways in which us cities are working to mitigate and adapt to climate change while creating equitable and livable communities sant presents 12 case studies drawn from research and over 90 interviews with people who are working in these communities to make a difference these efforts show how us cities are reclaiming their streets from cars restoring watersheds growing forests and adapting shorelines to improve people s lives while addressing our changing climate from the ground up is a call to action when we make the places we live more climate resilient we need to acknowledge and address the history of social and racial injustice advocates non profit organizations community based groups and government officials will find examples of how to build alliances to support and embolden this vision together
