The London Court of Arbitration (LCIA) is one of the world's foremost arbitration institutions with a growing annual caseload. The LCIA arbitration rules are among the most modern and forward-looking of the various sets of institutional arbitration rules but until now have not been the subject of in-depth study. This is the first full-length and comprehensive commentary on the rules written by two well-known and experienced arbitration practitioners. Portable and functional, this book acts as a guide and provides an indispensable resource for all involved in international arbitration under the LCIA rules. Grouped thematically, the commentary to each rule provides: 1. a description of the rule and its intended meaning; 2. the provenance and history of the rule; 3. the practical effect of the rule with reference to previous case law and jurisprudence; and 4. a comparative look at conceptual and practical differences between each rule, focusing specifically on how the rules of the LCIA differ from those of the ICC and the UNCITRAL. This title emphasises the international nature of the LCIA and provides the only dedicated reference to the rules.

the focus of this edited volume is the often overlooked importance of secondary rules of international law secondary rules of international law such as attribution causality and the standard and burden of proof have often been neglected in scholarly literature and have seen fragmented application in international legal practice yet the systemic nature of international law entails that coherent and consistent application of such rules is a key element in reinforcing the legitimacy of decisions of international courts and tribunals accelerated development of international law and international litigation coupled with the fragmented nature of the adjudicatory terrain calls for theoretical scrutiny and systemic analysis of the developments in the judicial treatment of secondary rules this publication makes three important contributions to the study of secondary rules first it offers a comprehensive expert doctrinal analysis of how standard of review causation evidentiary rules and attribution operate in the case law of international courts or tribunals in fields spanning human rights trade investment and humanitarian law second it comparatively evaluates the divergent layers of meanings and normative expectations attached to secondary rules in international law scholarship as well as in the judicial practice of international courts and tribunals
