in the recent past new materials laboratory and in situ testing methods and construction techniques have been introduced in addition modern computational techniques such as the finite element method enable the utilization of sophisticated constitutive models for realistic model based predictions of the response of pavements the 7th rilem international conference on cracking of pavements provided an international forum for the exchange of ideas information and knowledge amongst experts involved in computational analysis material production experimental characterization design and construction of pavements all submitted contributions were subjected to an exhaustive refereed peer review procedure by the scientific committee the editors and a large group of international experts in the topic on the basis of their recommendations 129 contributions which best suited the goals and the objectives of the conference were chosen for presentation and inclusion in the proceedings the strong message that emanates from the accepted contributions is that by accounting for the idiosyncrasies of the response of pavement engineering materials modern sophisticated constitutive models in combination with new experimental material characterization and construction techniques provide a powerful arsenal for understanding and designing against the mechanisms and the processes causing cracking and pavement response deterioration as such they enable the adoption of truly mechanistic design methodologies the papers represent the following topics laboratory evaluation of asphalt concrete cracking potential pavement cracking detection field investigation of pavement cracking pavement cracking modeling response crack analysis and damage prediction performance of concrete pavements and white toppings fatigue cracking and damage characterization of asphalt concrete evaluation of the effectiveness of asphalt concrete modification crack growth parameters and mechanisms evaluation quantification and modeling of asphalt healing properties reinforcement and interlayer systems for crack mitigation thermal and low temperature cracking of pavements and cracking propensity of wma and recycled asphalts the subject of quantum cosmology is concerned with providing a quantum mechanical description of the universe as a whole and within that description to constructing a theory of the universe's initial condition whose predictions can be compared with observation the recent progress in this area has profound implications for physics at all scales the lectures at this school describe these theories and their implications they cover basic quantum mechanics of cosmology proposals for theories of initial conditions and their application to the prediction of the large scale features of our universe a special emphasis of the school is the implication of topological fluctuations of spacetime wormholes baby universes for the observed coupling constants of the low energy interactions of elementary particles and as a potential explanation for the vanishing of the cosmological constant the pascos international symposium on particles strings and cosmology series brings together the leading experts and most active young researchers in the closely related fields of elementary particle physics string theory and cosmology astrophysics these areas of research have become increasingly intertwined in recent years each having direct impact on the others in particular there has been a dramatic expansion of ideas from particle theory and string theory that have vast impact on cosmology especially our picture of the early universe and its evolution correspondingly the proliferation of data regarding the early universe and its increasing precision has begun to strongly constrain the theoretical models meanwhile observations of neutrino oscillations and cosmic ray excesses and limits on new physics from colliders and other particle experiments as well as the resulting restrictions on theoretical and phenomenological modeling are becoming ever stronger during pascos99 it became clear that the long awaited era of convergence of these fields is truly at hand the proceedings of pascos 99 reflect the accelerating overlap and convergence of the fields of elementary particles physics string theory and cosmology astrophysics plenary reviews by leading figures in these fields provide perspectives on these interrelationships and up to the minute summaries of recent progress in the various areas parallel talk summaries focus on many of the topics within each field of greatest current interest and activity both the plenary and parallel writeups are designed to be descriptive in nature and avoid being overly technical as a result the volume can serve as a useful reference for students and professionals in all three fields careful referencing allows further pursuit of a given topic overall the proceedings are unique in that they not only bring together in a single volume comprehensive overview of the great progress being made in all three of these very exciting fields but also provide a snapshot of how particles strings and cosmology are increasingly impacting one another
