balancing sovereignty and development in international affairs is about cameroon a minor power in world affairs and her foreign policy and international relations especially as she deals with major powers in this case france it emphasizes cameroon s economic and political relations with france her relations with francophone africa anglophone nigeria during the nigerian civil war of 1967 1970 the hot button issues of african liberation and the development challenges that she faced the study probes the nature scope depth dynamics and drivers of cameroon s foreign policy to understand its logic and to uncover the consequences to the country s development and sovereignty it also investigates and sheds light on some conventional views about cameroon s relations with france the view that cameroon is a french puppet the above questions are investigated within the theoretical framework of dominant dependent compliant behavior in world politics put differently as a minor partner in her relations with france was cameroon being unduly exploited to france s benefits or not if not what were cameroon s benefits in the relationship and if so what were the benefits to france the case study method supplemented by rich statistical time series analysis source tracing and interviews were used to uncover patterns and common themes in cameroon s foreign policy behavior and to systematically document her economic dependence on france and assess if such dependence also generated political consequences for cameroon in its behavior towards france part one of the book discusses the historical origin of the modern cameroonian state the domestic context of its foreign policy post independence politics and challenges associated with nation building national independence domestic security and economic development that underlay the country s world view and guided her international behavior this part also analyzes cameroon s economic relations with france focusing on trade investments and aid revealing that france dominated the cameroonian economy in all three sectors explaining what accounted for such dominance and what cameroon tried to do to alleviate the situation part two focuses on case studies of critical foreign policy challenges that cameroon faced and how she reacted to french interests and pressure missions states and european expansion in africa aims to explore the ways christianity and colonialism acted as hegemonic or counter hegemonic forces in the making of african societies as western interventionist forces christianity and colonialism were crucial in establishing and maintaining political cultural and economic domination indeed both elements of africa s encounter with the west played pivotal roles in shaping african societies during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries this volume uses a wide range of perspectives to address the intersection between missions evangelism and colonial expansion across africa the contributors address several issues including missionary collaboration with the colonizing effort of european powers disagreements between missionaries and colonizing agents the ways in which missionaries and colonial officials used language imagery and european epistemology to legitimize relations of inequality with africans and the ways in which both groups collaborated to transform african societies thus missions states and european expansion in africa transcends the narrow boundaries that often separate the role of these two elements of european encounter to argue that missionary endeavours and official colonial actions could all be conceptualized as hegemonic institutions in which both pursued the same civilizing mission even if they adopted different strategies in their encounter with african societies at the turn of the twenty first century manipulation of the democratic process coupled with preexisting political and economic grievances led to years long civil wars in sierra leone liberia and côte d ivoire during and after these conflicts international peacekeeping efforts and humanitarian intervention became the dominant paths for restoring stability by rebuilding the state using these three countries as case studies this manuscript sheds light on internationally driven state building in war torn west african nations the problematic nature of the postcolonial state and the difficulties of securing its people s wellbeing connecting peace and conflict democracy and international development studies bah and emmanuel argue that there is a clear nexus between the concepts and practices of peace building and statebuilding that peace building and statebuilding are not domestic matters alone but also matters of global intervention and that civil wars can be viewed as opportunities for state building through creative postwar partnerships and organization this study goes beyond the familiar concepts of failed states r2p peacekeeping and peace mediation and introduces and enhances the concepts of state decay new humanitarianism people centered liberalism and institutional design in doing so it provides critical lessons that local and international actors can draw on as they try to figure out practical solutions to the political economic and social problems that impede the development of peaceful and democratic multiethnic postcolonial states in africa and beyond applying comparative historical methods and theory to archival materials and expert interviews international statebuilding in west africa seeks to shift the discourse on civil wars from their causes and implications to the opportunities they provide to rework failed states and to shift the discourse on african states from their colonial and neocolonial legacies to their shared moral and security interests with the rest of the world

The Construction of Identity and Representation of Gender in Four African Novels 1992

this revised and expanded second edition of african politics in comparative perspective reviews fifty years of research on politics in africa and addresses some issues in a new light keeping in mind the changes in africa since the first edition was written in 2004 the book synthesizes insights from different scholarly approaches and offers an original interpretation of the knowledge accumulated in the field goran hyden discusses how research on african politics relates to the study of politics in other regions and mainstream theories in comparative politics he focuses on such key issues as why politics trumps economics rule is personal state is weak and policies are made with a communal rather than an individual lens the book also discusses why in the light of these conditions agriculture is problematic gender contested ethnicity manipulated and relations with western powers a matter of defiance this book is about how african intellectuals influenced primarily by nationalism have addressed the inter related issues of power identity politics self assertion and autonomy for themselves and their continent from the mid nineteenth century onward their major goal was to create a better africa by connecting nationalism to knowledge the results have been mixed from the glorious euphoria of the success of anti colonial movements to the depressing circumstances of the african condition as we enter a new millennium as the intellectual elite is a creation of the western formal school system the ideas it generated are also connected to the larger world of scholarship this world is in turn shaped by european contacts with africa from the fifteenth century onward the politics of the cold war and the subsequent collapse of the soviet union in essence africa and its elite cannot be fully understood without also considering the west and changing global politics neither can the academic and media contributions by non africans be ignored as these also affect the ways that africans think about themselves and their continent nationalism and african intellectuals examines intellectuals ambivalent relationships with the colonial apparatus and subsequent nation state formations the contradictions manifested within pan africanism and nationalism and the relation of academic institutions and intellectual production to the state during the nationalism period and beyond toyin falola is the jacob and frances sanger mossiker chair in the humanities and university distinguished teaching professor at the university of texas at austin
