child prodigy and brilliant MIT mathematician Norbert Wiener founded the revolutionary science of cybernetics and ignited the information age explosion of computers, automation, and global telecommunications. His best-selling book, Cybernetics, catapulted him into the public spotlight, as did his chilling visions of the future and his ardent social activism. Based on a wealth of primary sources and exclusive access to Wiener's closest family members, friends, and colleagues, Dark Hero of the Information Age reveals this eccentric genius as an extraordinarily complex figure. No one interested in the intersection of technology and culture will want to miss this epic story of one of the twentieth century's most brilliant and colorful figures.

provides a thorough history of British and North American children's literature from the 17th century to the present day. Now fully revised and updated, this new edition includes a new chapter on illustrated and picture books and includes 8 illustrations, an expanded glossary, and an updated further reading section. Children's Literature traces the development of the main genres of children's books, one by one, including fables, fantasy, adventure stories, moral tales, family stories, school stories, children's poetry, and illustrated and picture books. Grenby shows how these forms have evolved over 300 years and asks why most children's books even today continue to fall into one or other of these generic categories. Combining detailed analysis of particular key texts and a broad survey of hundreds of books written and illustrated for children, this volume considers both long forgotten and still famous titles, as well as the new classics of the genre, all of them loved by children and adults alike, but also fascinating and challenging for the critic and cultural historian. Key features include broad historical range, coverage of neglected as well as well-known texts, focus on the main genres of children's literature, thoroughly up to date in terms of primary texts and critical material.

Shahnama: The Visual Language of the Persian Book of Kings presents the first comprehensive examination of the interplay between text and image in the celebrated Persian national epic, the Shahnama, written by the poet Ferdowsi. The Shahnama is one of the longest poems ever composed and recounts the history of Iran from the dawn of time to the Muslim Arab conquests of the seventh century AD. There is no Persian text in prose or poetry which has been so frequently and lavishly illustrated, offering fresh insights through a range of varied art historical approaches. to the shahnama the essays in this volume reveal how the subtle alterations in text and image serve to document changes in taste and style and can be understood as reflections of the changing role of the national epic in the imagination of iranians and the equally changing messages often political in nature which the familiar stories were made to convey over the centuries remaking history considers the ways that historical fictions of all kinds enable a complex engagement with the past popular historical texts including films television and novels along with cultural phenomena such as superheroes and vampires broker relationships to history while also enabling audiences to understand the ways in which the past is written structured and ordered jerome de groot uses examples from contemporary popular culture to show the relationship between fiction and history in two key ways firstly the texts pedagogically contribute to the historical imaginary and secondly they allow reflection upon how the past is constructed as history in doing so they provide an accessible and engaging means to critique conceptualize and reject the processes of historical representation the book looks at the use of the past in fiction from sources including mad men downton abbey and howard brenton s anne boleyn along with the work of directors such as terence malick quentin tarantino and martin scorsese to show that fictional representations enable a comprehension of the fundamental strangeness of the past and the ways in which this foreign exotic other is constructed drawing from popular films novels and tv series of recent years and engaging with key thinkers from marx to derrida remaking history is a must for all students interested in the meaning that history has for fiction and vice versa
