ever since thoreau s walden the image of the american homesteader has been of someone getting away from civilization of forging an independent life in the country yet if this were ever true what is the nature and reality of homesteading in the media saturated hyper connected 21st century for seven years philip ackerman leist and his wife erin lived without electricity or running water in an old cabin in the beautiful but remote hills of western new england slowly forging their own farm and homestead they took inspiration from their experiences among the mountain farmers of the tirolean alps and were guided by their vermont neighbors who taught them about what it truly means to live sustainably in the postmodern homestead not only to survive but to thrive in a fragmented landscape and a fractured economy up tunket road is the inspiring true story of a young couple who embraced the joys of simple living while also acknowledging its frustrations and complexities ackerman leist writes with humor about the inevitable foibles of setting up life off the grid from hauling frozen laundry uphill to getting locked in the henhouse by their ox but he also weaves an instructive narrative that contemplates the future of simple living his is not a how to guide but something much richer and more important a tale of discovery that will resonate with readers who yearn for a better more meaningful life whether they live in the city country or somewhere in between god accused or defended tackles a prickly subject about whether or not god is responsible for allowing both natural evils and moral evils to exist in his creation the book is a theodicy that unravels some of the most tangled and knotted issues involved in this paradox the biggest challenge is how to confront the various concepts held about god and what he is up to with humanity many theologians and philosophers have attempted to solve the apparent paradox by changing who or what god is in that process there have been four basic outcomes 1 god must be redefined 2 god cannot do anything about the situation 3 god will not do anything about it or 4 its useless to think about so it is best to abandon the faith using his many years of experience in biblical studies the author resolves the paradox
