from the author of the my weird school books an adventure story that spans centuries and continents in central park new york stands cleopatra s needle but what do you know about did you know that thousands of people worked in 1461 bce to build it then hundreds more moved it and erected it in alexandria where it stood for 3 000 years so how did a monolith weighing over 200 tons get moved all the way to new york city and in the 19th century no less in this historical fiction account by bestselling author dan gutman five kids who watched the needle at each phase of its history recount the daring story of how something that seemed to be impossible and that nearly ended in disaster finally succeeded against all odds including photos diagrams and illustrations this book will leave history lovers and fans of problem solving astounded at all that was accomplished and best of all it will leave middle grade readers feeling they ve just watched a really good movie they ll hardly even realize they were reading a junior library guild gold standard selection

My Lie

meredith maran lived a daughter s nightmare she accused her father of sexual abuse then realized nearly too late that he was innocent during the 1980s and 1990s tens of thousands of americans became convinced that they had repressed memories of childhood sexual abuse and then decades later recovered those memories in therapy journalist mother and daughter meredith maran was one of them her accusation and estrangement from her father caused her sons to grow up without their only grandfather divided her family into those who believed her and those who didn t and led her to isolate herself on planet incest where survivors devoted their lives and life savings to recovering memories of events that had never occurred maran unveils her family s devastation and ultimate redemption against the backdrop of the sex abuse scandals beginning with the infamous mcmartin preschool trial that sent hundreds of innocents to jail several of whom remain imprisoned today exploring the psychological cultural and neuroscientific causes of this modern american witch hunt my lie asks how could so many people come to believe the same lie at the same time what has neuroscience discovered about the brain s capacity to create false memories and encode false beliefs what are the big lies gaining traction in american culture today and how can we keep them from taking hold my lie is a wrenchingly honest unexpectedly witty and profoundly human story that proves the personal is indeed political and the political can become painfully personal

Harry's War - The True Story of the Soldier Prince on february 28 2008 to great international surprise the british ministry of defense released a statement acknowledging that prince harry son of the late princess diana and third in line to the british throne had secretly been deployed to afghanistan subsequent reports revealed that the prince had killed up to thirty taliban insurgents in directing at least three air strikes and that he had helped gurkha troops repel a ground attack of taliban insurgents using a machine gun on february 29 prince harry was withdrawn from the country with distinction via a covert sas deployment this is the amazing story of the first british royal to serve his country in 25 years and his 10 heroic weeks of combat

The War Maker: Being the True Story of Captain George B. Boynton throughout my life i have sought adventure over the face of the world and its waters as other men have hunted and fought for gold or struggled for fame the love of it whether through the outcropping of a strain of buccaneer blood that had been held in subjection by generations of placid propriety or as a result of some freak of prenatal suggestion was born in me deep planted and long rooted excitement is as essential to my existence as air and food through it my life has been prolonged in activity and my soul perpetuated in youth when i can no longer enjoy its electrification death as it is so spoken of will i hope come quickly to get away from the flat tiresome beaten path and find conditions or create situations to gratify the clamorous demand within me has ever been my compelling passion i have served all told under eighteen flags and to each i gave the best that was in me even though some of them were disappointing in their failure to produce a pleasing amount of excitement in following my natural bent which i was powerless as well as disinclined to interfere with or alter to the full length of my capabilities it perhaps will be considered by some people that i have gone outside of written laws to such a contention my answer is that i have always been true to my own conscience which is the known and yet the unknown quantity we all must reckon with and to my country in the transportation of arms with which to further fights for freedom or fortune i have flown many flags i had no strictly legal right to fly over ships that were not what they

pretended to be nor what their papers indicated them to be but never have i taken refuge behind the stars and stripes nor have i ever called on an american minister or consular officer to get me out of the successive scrapes with governments but most often with misgovernments into which my warring wanderings have carried me red blooded love of adventure free from any wanton spirit and with the prospect of financial reward always subordinated has been the driving force in all of my encounters with good men and bad with the latter class much in the majority therefore i have only scorn for sympathy and contempt for criticism nor am i troubled with uncanny visions by night nor haunting recollections by day there is just one point in my philosophy which i wish to make clear before the blue peter is hoisted and that is that most of the so called impossibilities we encounter are simply disguised opportunities because they are regarded as impossible they are not guarded against and are therefore comparatively easy of accomplishment when they really are possible as most of them are acceptance of this theory with which every student of the history of warfare will agree will help to explain my ability to do some of the things which will be told of that the thoughtless would promptly put down as impossible the name by which i am known is one of the contradictions of my life save only for my father who sympathized with my adventurous disposition at the same time that he tried to curb it i was at war with my family almost from the time i could talk i am a republican in politics from the fact that they were active supporters of james buchanan and i became a southern sympathizer simply because they were bitterly opposed to slavery when i left home to become an adventurer around the globe i buried my real name and i do not propose to uncover it here or hereafter i am proud though of the fact that my family is descended from a king of burgundy for since reaching years of discretion though i have been as loyal to the united states as any man since 1865 i never have believed in a republican form of government in the course of my activities i have used many names in many lands but that of boynton which had been in the family for years stuck to me until i finally adopted it prefixing a george and a b which really stands for boynton i made it my business to forget as soon as they had served my purpose the different names i took in response to the demand of expediency but i remember that kinneer and henderson were two under which i created some comment on opposite sides of the world the red true story book needs no long introduction the editor in presenting the blue true story book apologised for offering tales so much less thrilling and romantic than the legends of the fairies but he added that even real facts were sometimes curious and interesting next year he promises something quite as true as history and quite as entertaining as fairies for this book mr rider haggard has kindly prepared a narrative of wilson s last fight by aid of conversations with mr burnham the gallant american scout but mr haggard found while writing his chapter that mr burnham had already told the story in an interview published by the westminster gazette the courtesy of the proprietor of that journal and of mr burnham has permitted mr haggard to incorporate the already printed narrative with his own matter the life and death of joan the maid is by the editor who has used m quicherat s procès five volumes published for the historical society of france with m quicherat s other researches he has also used m wallon s biography the works of father ayroles s j the jeanne d arc à domremy of m siméon luce the works of m sepet of michelet of henri martin and generally all printed documents to which he has had access of unprinted contemporary matter perhaps none is known to exist except the viii venetian correspondence now being prepared for publication by father ayroles how the bass was held for king james is by the editor mainly from blackadder s life
